Nitrate Loaded Ship Burns At Brest

Pillar of smoke rose in the sky when the Ss. Ocean Liberty, Norwegian Liberty ship loaded with ammonium nitrate, blew up at sea after being towed from the harbor at Brest, France. Fifteen persons were killed and 200 seriously injured. Today longshoremen at Brooklyn, N.Y., refused to load cargo in a freighter which was carrying ammonium nitrate unless certain conditions were met. A few months ago a ship loaded with the same fertilizer blew up at Texas City, Tex.

N.L.R.B. Rejects Bribery Charges By Seamen's Union

OTTAWA (CP)—The National Labor Relations board today refused the Canadian Seamen's Union permission to take court action against chiefs of the three lake shipping companies on charges that they tried to bribe T. G. McManus, national C.S.U. secretary, with an offer of $100,000 to accept a work contract on their terms.

The board, however, granted the union permission to prosecute the three companies for alleged breaches of labor regulations for refusing ship-boarding passes to C.S.U. officials as provided in their collective agreement, while issuing such passes to a rival union.

The ruling of the board, handed down two days after hearing of the application, expressed "the earnest hope" that the parties would settle their difficulties without recourse to court proceedings.

This was an obvious reference to this morning's meeting of representatives of the union and the Canada Steamships and the Sarnia and Colonial Lines with L. W. Brockington, appointed by the government as an industrial disputes inquiries commissioner to investigate differences that have cropped up between the two factions since they ended a long inland shipping strike with agreement last year.

Woman Grabs Purse Going Out Window On Hooked Pole

Mrs. D. H. Johnson, 2318 Shakespeare Street, toiled Victoria's fishing pole night prowler Wednesday night.

Hearing a noise in her bedroom at 10:30, Mrs. Johnson entered the room to see her purse being withdrawn through the window on the end of a pole with a hook. Mrs. Johnson made a dive for the purse and succeeded in retrieving it.

The night prowler, made a hasty retreat, eluding police who searched the area.

Examination of the room showed another purse, hanging near the open bedroom window, had been stolen. Ration books and other articles from this purse were found by D. Le Marchand, 2154 Belmont Avenue, outside his home today. Thirteen dollars were missing.

Constable Keith Hollet made investigations at the Johnson home.

Dutch Capture Key Java City; Natives Flee

BATAVIA, Java (AP)—The Dutch army announced tonight the capture of the fire-scarred Malang, former resort city and key to east central Java.

"The town is a wilderness," the first semi-official dispatch said.

"Important buildings, factories, a convent and cinemas were blown up and burned days ago. Shops were pillaged and the city is dead."

More than 100,000 Indonesians left Malang ahead of the Dutch forces, the dispatch said. Only Chinese and Eurasians stayed behind.

"Everywhere Malang presented a picture of desolation," the dispatch reported. "According to the population, looting commenced a week ago and also demolitions of public buildings by the 'Revolutionary Army.' These included members of the regular Indonesian forces and other organizations made up of people from the island of Celebes. Local authorities were powerless. Indonesian snipers left the town today."

SCORCHED EARTH

A broadcast Indonesian communiqué said the Dutch were only within mortar range of the city and that Indonesians were applying the scorched earth policy.

The Republicans asserted also their forces were within 12 miles of Batavia and had reoccupied the perimeter towns of Tangerang, Serpong and Tjime. The Dutch declared this claim "nonsense." Reporters found no sign of Republican activity in the general Batavia area.

The Indonesians said another column of the Dutch army, equipped largely with United States lend-lease and surplus war supplies, had cut nearly halfway across the waist of Java in a drive from Tegal, on the north coast, to the Bobotsari area, 35 miles to the southeast. The Republicans asserted the Dutch were using a company of Japanese in the attack.

TO ACCEPT U.N. RULE

NEW DELHI (AP)—Former Premier Sutan Sjahrir of the Indonesian Republic said in a statement today his government would "accept any impartial arbitration" of issues causing hostilities with the Dutch in the Netherlands East Indies.

He asserted the republic would "abide by the decisions of the (United Nations) Security Council with regard to obligations, duties and responsibilities imposed by the United Nations' Charter." Sjahrir said he had been authorized to make the statement.

Pure Pepper May Be Back In Stores Sept. 1

Belief that all controls will be off and the sale of pure pepper allowed Sept. 1, was expressed today by Carron Jameson of W. A. Jameson Coffee Co. Ltd., on receipt of information from spice merchants in Vancouver.

"We have had no definite information from the government when the sale of pure pepper will be allowed but we are led to believe it will be about September," Mr. Jameson said.

Merchants in Vancouver have quantities of real pepper and are ready to release it as soon as pepper comes off control, he said.

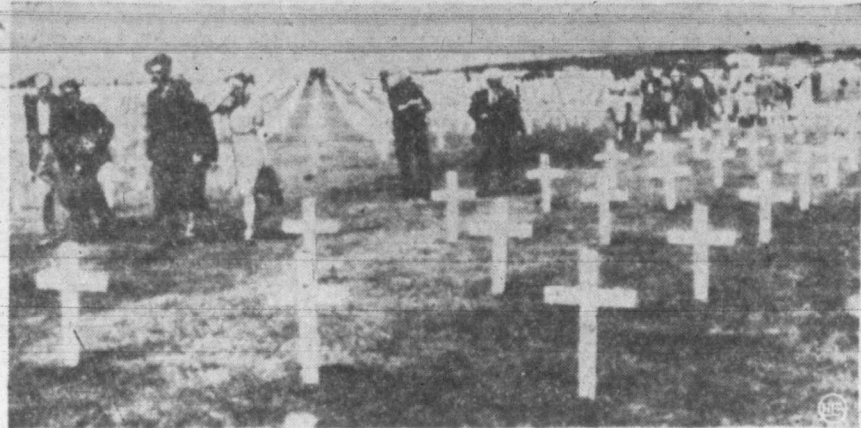

Delay Strike Trial For Court Reporter

NANAIMO (CP)—The non-arrival of a court stenographer today delayed opening of the adjourned hearing of the Imperial Laundry Company strikers charged with participation in an illegal strike.

The court, attaches and about 150 spectators had assembled for the hearing when it was announced the stenographer, coming from Vancouver, had been delayed. No local court stenographer is available.

The hearing was adjourned until later in the day.

U.S. Troopship Brings 800 D.P.'s To Canada; First Of 10,000 Migrating

HALIFAX (CP)—Breaking through a thick fog curtain early today, the U.S. troopship General M. B. Stewart steamed into port with more than 800 displaced persons from Europe aboard—the first of 10,000 immigrants of this category coming to Canada.

Cheering wildly as their 12,000-ton vessel slowly manoeuvred alongside the dock, the shabbily-dressed Europeans appeared happy that the first leg of their long journey was over. They readily posed for photographers, but few could reply with anything but "nein" to reporters' questions.

TO LUMBER CAMPS

Among the 800 were 105 women and children bound for homes of relatives in Canada. The remaining 700 men were scheduled to board special trains today for lumber camps from Quebec to British Columbia.

The troopship left Bremerhaven, Germany, eight days ago and at that time the immigrants had their first North American meal in many years. It was the first time any were served three meals a day since 1939.

The women, dressed in prewar clothing, wearing long shawls about their heads, appeared tired but happy.

HAIRCUTS NEEDED

The men wore cast-off United States army clothing and needed haircuts.

They came from many European countries, but the majority were Lithuanians and Ukrainians, who had been drafted into Hitler's slave-labor battalions. These young men range in ages from 20 to 30. Many are graduates of European universities. All speak German, as well as other European tongues.

A curious band of dock workers welcomed them and those who spoke German acted as interpreters for newspapermen.

Twenty-six-year-old Jaschinskis Wytas, graduate economist from Lithuania said in halting English he was "happy to be here and I intend to work hard as a lumberman."

As he spoke, 15 to 20 of his fellow countrymen eagerly produced photographs of their war-torn country.

Under United States army supervision aboard ship, the immigrants enjoyed more freedom than in years. They published their own mimeographed newspaper which provided them with an outline of Canada.

In a message to the immigrants, the publication said:

"We must stop and realize that we will start a new life with conditions being different than those of old. We do hope that all of us will be able to forget the suffering and fighting, which we have seen . . . and will begin anew in a land where peace and freedom reign."

TO BE GOOD CITIZENS

"We must do our best to become good citizens in this country which is accepting us. We all had similar faith, but were forced to leave our countries, our homes and our beloved ones to become slave laborers in Germany. But even so we have been most fortunate in remaining alive until the hour of liberation arrived. For once again we have become a free people."

Greece May Invoke Drastic Move By U.N. Against Neighbor States

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—The Greek government was reported by informed sources today to be considering the possibility of bringing charges against Russia's Balkan satellites under the most drastic provisions of the United Nations' charter.

The Greek delegation to the United Nations would not comment, but informed sources said the Greeks were studying closely Chapter VII of the Charter, which provides for United Nations action in cases of aggression and breaches of peace.

That chapter was invoked for the first time in U.N. history Wednesday by Australia in bringing the Indonesian case to the Security Council. Both the Indonesian and Balkan issues were on the council's agenda for the meeting today.

It was said the Greeks have been told by the United States that the Truman administration plan remained definitely in force despite the Russian veto of an American proposal to set up a Balkans commission. It was said the United States told the Greeks it was firmly behind them in their efforts to establish a stable government and stop the disorders in the Balkans.

Chapter VII includes strong measures, from breaking off relations with the aggressor up to actual military operations by the United Nations against any country the Security Council decides has committed an act of aggression.

However, the United Nations police force which would carry out any such military orders still is in the discussion stage.

An informed source said today that the United States will seek every way possible in the U.N. to settle the Greek question; that the United States will continue its support of the Greek government and that the United States

British Ship Drops Blast In U.S. Port; Saboteurs Feared

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—H.M.S. Kenya, 11,000-ton cruiser of the Royal Navy, dropped a demolition charge at her berth in Los Angeles Harbor Wednesday night when bubbles, later found to have been caused by an auxiliary engine, gave rise to fears of underwater saboteurs.

All automobile traffic to the wharf was restricted immediately after the incident, harbor police reported.

A telephone caller Wednesday to the British consulate was reported to have protested the Kenya's visit here.

In the course of her cruise the Kenya is scheduled to visit Esquimalt next week.

British Cabinet Discusses Holy Land Situation

JERUSALEM (AP)—A cunningly contrived booby trap today blasted to bits the bodies of two British sergeants hanging from a tree near Natanya 24 hours after Irgun Zvai Leumi had slain them in reprisal for the execution of three Irgunists by the Palestine government.

One British soldier was wounded by the blast and an Associated Press photographer, James Pringle, was knocked to the ground. Pringle's camera was destroyed by the explosion, which blew pieces of flesh over an area of 50 yards.

The blackened and bloody bodies of the two sergeants were found hanging five miles from Natanya.

Police said they now believed the two sergeants had been held prisoner in a deserted factory near the edge of Natanya since their abduction, despite the fact that the Natanya area had been repeatedly searched.

(In London today Prime Minister Attlee placed the entire Palestine situation before the cabinet.)

Three days after the kidnapping the army clamped down military rule on Natanya, a Mediterranean resort town and Palestine's diamond capital. For two weeks troops combed the town and its environs in an unsuccessful search for the missing men.

Irgun Zvai Leumi boasted openly that they never would be found alive if British authorities persisted in executing its condemned members. The Irgunists were executed for their part in a raid on Acre Prison last May in which more than 200 prisoners were freed and 16 persons were killed.

Persons who passed by the factory where the sergeants were

Demand Aid From Jewish Agency

Lt. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, high commissioner of Palestine, summoned Mrs. Golda Myerson, United States-born head of the Jewish Agency's political department, to Government House.

It was understood Sir Alan would demand co-operation from the Jewish community "in every sense of the word" in combating the Jewish terrorist activity.

When soldiers started to cut the bodies down after an hour-long probe for mines, the booby trap exploded behind the body of Sgt. Martin. It blasted to bits his body and that of Sgt. Paice. The blast wounded one Grenadier Guardsman in the face and

Widespread Horror Expressed

Horror and indignation keyed comments today on reports that the bodies of two British army sergeants slain by Jewish terrorists had been found and then blasted to bits in a Palestine forest.

Alderman G. Briggs, Mayor of Coventry, Eng., home town of Sgt. Clifford Martin, one of the slain men, said the "town would be stunned by this terrible crime."

Alderman G. S. James, Lord Mayor of Bristol, birthplace of the other victim, Sgt. Mervyn Paice, said:

"A terrible crime against humanity has been committed. The

Hope To Stop Ship

BATAVIA (Reuters)—The Jogyakarta radio tonight broadcast an appeal to port workers at Suez, Aden, Colombo and Singapore to "take the necessary steps in the shortest possible time" against the Dutch 15,000-ton liner Volendam, reported to have left Holland July 30 with troops and war material for Indonesia.

threw several bystanders to the ground, including photographer James Pringle and correspondent Carter L. Davidson, both of the Associated Press.

Pinned to the bodies of the two sergeants were "communiques" in Hebrew. The killings, the inscription said, were carried out "a military execution by the Jewish resistance to the enemies of our homeland."

The contorted features of the two sergeants indicated their deaths had been caused by strangulation by crudely fashioned nooses. The ropes were looped around limbs close to the trunks of the trees.

whole civilized world will be appalled."

Jewish organizations in both London and Palestine were unanimous in condemning the terrorist action.

In the House of Commons, Colonial Secretary Creech Jones declared today that there could scarcely have been "a more dastardly act."

Anthony Eden, for the Conservative opposition, asked if "in view of these terrible acts" the government would "take unrelenting steps to see to it that both the authors and conspirators are brought to justice."

The House cheered his question.

Jews At Marseilles May Be Removed To Germany Or Africa

LONDON (AP)—An authoritative source said today Britain would send the 4,500 Jewish refugees of the S.S. Exodus to Germany or Africa, and perhaps later to Africa—if they persisted in refusing to disembark at Port de Bouc, France.

The source said Prime Minister Attlee and his cabinet had taken the decision at a meeting in which the entire Palestine situation was considered.

Under the plan, the Exodus of 1947 refugees would remain temporarily in the British zone of Germany while the cabinet picked a place for them in some other British-controlled area of the world, possibly an African colony, the source said.

The Jewish refugees arrived off France Monday. Three British ships brought them from Palestine waters, where their ship, the former S.S. President Warfield, renamed Exodus of 1947, had been intercepted by British naval craft.

ASK QUICK RULING
PARIS (AP)—The French cabinet weighed today a National Assembly resolution urging it to press Britain for a speedy and humane solution to the vexing problem, by 4,500 Jewish refugees staging a sitdown on three British transports anchored off France's Mediterranean coast near Marseilles.

The resolution was adopted late Wednesday by unanimous vote of the Assembly, which also congratulated the French government for not attempting to impose a course of action upon the Jews.

Dispatches from Port de Bouc on France's southern coast reported meanwhile signs of growing restlessness among the ship-bound Jews, who have refused to disembark in protest against being shipped back to France after a fruitless attempt to crash the gates of Palestine.

The discomforts of life aboard the crowded ships, which left Palestine almost three weeks ago, were increased by extremely hot weather and a shortage of rations.

Some observers frankly expressed belief that British officials were playing a waiting game in hope that the broiling sun might change the Jews' minds about going ashore.

Advices from London, however, indicated the British government was at a loss as to how to deal with the problem.

British sources said it seemed

Donald Doesn't Know

With childhood's amazing courage, seven-year-old Donald Dunlop smiles cheerfully, although lying severely burned in Deaconess Hospital, St. Louis, Mo. He's happy in the thought of going fishing with his dad soon. But Donald doesn't know that his dad is dead—of burns suffered when he rescued the boy from their burning home in Salem, Mo. He doesn't know, either, that his three younger sisters were burned to death. The tragedy happened, police say, when Donald's mother threw gasoline on the sleeping family and set fire to the house.

Salmon Canning Ahead Of 1946

Operations of salmon canneries of British Columbia are continuing well in advance of last year with production to last week-end totaling 219,898 48-pound cases.

At the same date in 1946, 175,193 cases had been produced, while on the same date of 1945 production stood at 306,926 cases.

Bulk of the output to date has been sockeye, the most valuable species of the Pacific coast. Federal government fisheries department officials reported today that to last week-end 172,901 cases of sockeye had been canned, compared with 121,121 cases at the same date in 1946 and 211,888 cases at the corresponding date in 1945.

Canning of other species for this year is as follows: Springs, 2,342 cases; steelheads, 516 cases; bluebacks, 4,251 cases; coho, 22,759 cases; pinks, 6,546 cases, and chums, 10,583 cases.

$100,000 In Opium On British Ship

BOSTON (AP)—Customs officials today began an exhaustive questioning of crew members of the British motorship Silverlarch in an effort to determine what was smuggled $100,000 worth of gum opium into the United States.

Fifty-five pounds of the narcotics were uncovered Wednesday when the craft docked from Indian ports, customs officers reported.

The crew was denied shore leave pending questioning. William S. Summers, in charge of agents who inspected the vessel, said 20 pounds of the drug were found in a life preserver which hung in full view on the after-deck house.

New Polio Cases Raise Total In Manitoba To 39

WINNIPEG (CP)—Eleven new cases of poliomyelitis, largest number reported in any 24-hour period this year, today had raised Manitoba's total to 39 and moved the provincial health department to issue a bulletin describing preventive measures to be taken.

On the brighter side of the ledger, the department reported there was no special cause for alarm and that the great majority of cases have been of a mild type with no paralysis being evident in most. A boy and a girl, each 14, have died.

Seven of the 11 reported Wednesday were in the Greater Winnipeg area, bringing its total to 20. Twenty-four of the 39 are males and the disease has stricken the age group of from 10 to 14 most severely. Fifteen cases lie within those ages and 13 in the five-to-nine years' class.

Manitoba's record, however, was well behind that of British Columbia, where 89 cases have been reported, 66 in Greater Vancouver. The other western provinces, Alberta and Saskatchewan, have eight and 19 cases, respectively, with the only death being recorded in Saskatchewan.

The department bulletin, after describing early symptoms, warned that mingling with known cases or in crowds, physical exhaustion, swimming in polluted water and chilling by remaining too long in the water are to be avoided. Cleanliness, both personally and in preparation of food, particularly fruit and new vegetables, is essential and operations for nose or throat ailments should not be undertaken.

Wants His Money Back

PORT HURON, Mich. (CP)—When Gerald T. Lomasney gave his divorced wife two blank signed cheques for groceries he asked her to fill in the amounts of $50 each, he testified in court Wednesday, charging she made one out for $20,000 and the other for $10,000. He asked an injunction to restrain her from cashing the $10,000 cheque and a court order to make her repay what is left of the $20,000 cheque.

Liner One-Third To Blame For Accident

LONDON (Reuter)—The court of appeal Wednesday decided that the 81,000-ton Cunard White Star liner Queen Mary was one-third to blame for a collision off the coast of Ireland Oct. 2, 1942, when the British cruiser Curacao sank with the loss of 328 of her crew.

The hearing was an appeal by the Admiralty from a judgment in the Admiralty division of the High Court which held the cruiser entirely to blame.

Allowing the appeal, and attributing one-third of the blame to the Queen Mary, which was carrying 10,000 United States troops, and two-thirds to the cruiser, escorting her in convoy, the court gave leave to appeal to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council.

William S. Summers, in charge of agents who inspected the vessel, said 20 pounds of the drug were found in a life preserver which hung in full view on the after-deck house.

Canadian-Australian Contacts To Increase, Says Commissioner

SYDNEY, Australia (CP) — Kenneth A. Greene, Canada's new High Commissioner to Australia, who arrived here Wednesday will go on to Canberra tomorrow.

Accompanied by his wife and daughter, Patricia, Mr. Greene came to Australia via the United Kingdom, traveling on the liner Stratheden, which is making its first postwar voyage on the Australian run.

The High Commissioner told newspaper men on his arrival at Sydney that Canada's increased interest in security and trade in the Pacific would increase her contacts with Australia.

"No two countries in the world have more interest in common than Australia and Canada," he said. "After sharing the perils of two world wars and proving their mettle therein, Canada and Australia face uncertainties of the postwar world with mutual interests in establishment of peace and international co-operation to enable them to get ahead with the great developmental tasks facing them."

When Mr. Greene passed through Melbourne on the Stratheden he earned a three-column headline in the evening paper, the Melbourne Herald, as "more or less a prefabricated Australian."

The High Commissioner's grandfather's brother was lured to Australia in the 1850s by the gold rush. Somewhere in the State of Victoria Mr. Greene says he expects to find a cousin or two.

Britain Draws $300,000,000 Of Loan

LONDON (Reuter) — Britain made another drawing on her United States loan July 25, for the record amount of $300,000,000, it was disclosed here today.

Added to this month's three previous drawings of a total of $400,000,000 on July 10 and 14, total drawings in July alone have been the extraordinary amount of $700,000,000 and leave only $1,000,000,000 still to be drawn.

30-Day Jail Term For 15 Vancouver Seamen For Delay

VANCOUVER (CP) — Fifteen seamen were sentenced to 30 days in jail in police court here Wednesday after being convicted on charges of impeding the progress of the Vancouver freighter Chilliwack while it was moored in a Panama Canal port.

Nine other crew members, who are all under 21 years of age, drew suspended sentences.

Similar charges against one seaman who had been on the vessel for only one voyage and a 17-year-old mess boy were dismissed.

John Stanton, defence counsel, said the conviction of the 15 men given jail terms would be appealed.

The crew members were alleged to have walked off the vessel at Cristobal, Canal Zone, in protest over a faulty water cooler and the poor conditions in the crew's quarters.

Capt. Archibald Donald, the ship's master, said the men stayed ashore about three hours and caused the freighter to be held up almost 21 hours in passing through the canal.

Sentenced To Death

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Ras Haile Selassie Gussa, son-in-law of Emperor Haile Selassie, was sentenced Wednesday to death for high treason in connection with collaboration with the Italians during World War II. He is expected to appeal.

The chieftain, who married the Emperor's daughter, Zenab Wark, joined the Italian invaders of Ethiopia before the war, was given a puppet kingdom in the northern provinces, and later was reprieved fighting alongside the Duke of Aosta against Britain. His arrest was ordered as long ago as 1941 by the Emperor himself.

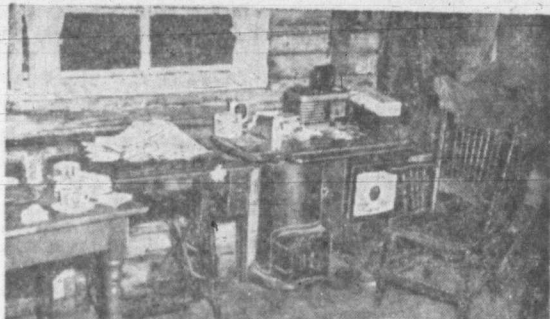

Mother Of 8 Kills Husband

Held in the death of her husband, Clayton Cottrell, left, is Mrs. Cottrell, right. Eldest boy slept in this building, top, right, where Mrs. Cottrell is said to have found gun.

Mrs. Cottrell left her husband dead in this bush home near Parry Sound, Ont., and seven of her eight children sleep in one bed in the sparsely furnished bush home.

Shooting followed all-night drinking bout by dead man, police said they were told. Clayton Cottrell slumped into armchair seen in kitchen after he was shot.

Four of the eight Cottrell children are shown here with a visiting relative. Six of the Cottrell children had to sleep in one bed in the sparsely furnished bush home.

Seagulls Force Farmer To Sell His Hogs

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — A flock of seagulls, making hogs of themselves, have contributed to driving farmer Carl Nelson temporarily out of the hog-raising business.

The gulls, estimated by Nelson at from 1,000 to 2,000 in number and protected by the law, invaded his hog lot two months ago.

At first Nelson did not object to their presence, but shortly they became so bold they would crowd the hogs away from the feed troughs.

"A sack of shorts would last only about five minutes," the hog feeder said. Various attempts were made to scare the birds away, but nothing worked. Nelson resorted to firecrackers, thinking the noise might scare the visitors into flight, but "they seemed to get a degree of entertainment from the flashes."

The latest effort has been to sell the hogs and shut off the water that formerly flowed through the feed lot.

About 500,000 pilgrims visit the shrine at Lourdes, France, every year.

Postpone Treaties

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —

Bank robber Richard A. Nomer, now serving the 12th year of his 25-year sentence at Alcatraz prison wants federal court to declare him bankrupt and make Warden James A. Johnston pay him 54 cents.

The warden, Nomer's complaint says, is holding his only assets, the 54 cents, 80 paint brushes and 30 tubes of colors, for a fracas causing $75 damage to isolation cell block D.

He asked the court to wipe out the damage claim against him in the bankruptcy action and said his assets were not subject to bankruptcy seizure.

THAT VANISHING LOAN

WHILE THE BATTLE OF "THE PLANS"
—Marshall versus Molotov—continues to exercise the minds of statesmen in several European capitals, Great Britain's valiant fight to conserve her fast-dwindling supply of dollars goes on inexorably. And this is a battle which has become intensified because the treasury at Westminster has had to draw very large amounts this month from what is left of the United States loan. A dispatch from London yesterday puts the July figure at no less than $700,000,000, leaving only $1,000,000,000 of the original accommodation of $3,750,000,000, which it was hoped would see the nation through its worst economic hours—or until about 1950. Now the date of exhaustion is being set for the end of October of this year. This gloomy prospect becomes no brighter when considered in conjunction with the probability that all Britain's own gold stock that could be prudently spent will have vanished before the end of 1947.

How serious this dollar shortage is for Britain was fully explained by Sir Stafford Cripps the other day. He made no bones about the threatening implications of this economic dilemma with which a hard-pressed and tired nation is confronted. Because sterling is now convertible, the shortage of dollars in other countries has put new pressure on sterling-dollar exchange, which the President of the Board of Trade explained in part this way:

"We become, as it were, the exchange channel for a large part of the world, and we therefore have to carry the main burden of the world dollar shortage. This is something which I think was not generally anticipated at the time of the grant of the American credit. Second, and this is almost as important, the shortage of foreign exchange in other countries leads them to limit and regulate their imports—as we ourselves have to do for the same reason—thus closing to us some of those export markets upon which we have always relied for building up our export trade. A typical instance of this is the Argentine, where many classes of goods are now prohibited from entry and many of them just those very goods with which we should expect to be able to pay for the essential Argentine imports, largely foodstuffs, into this country."

As the President of the Board of Trade was careful to explain, moreover, Britain has cut her imports to between 70 and 80 per cent of the prewar figure—a level beyond which the national economy should not be permitted to go if very serious dislocation in general production is to be prevented. "Let us remember," said Sir Stafford, "we are still bound by the non-discrimination clauses of the Loan Agreement with America." By which he meant that Britain cannot choose—on a basis of foreign exchange—the particular country or countries from which she may import. With all these important factors in mind, therefore, he issued this grave warning:

"We have neither time nor resources to spare. The situation is as urgent for our future as was the period before D-Day. Everyone can contribute to our success by their efforts or to our failure by their lack of effort. The battle of the balance of payments is on, our independent economic survival as a great power is at stake. The courage and determination of a great constructive effort by the entire nation is needed today. We should be neither optimists nor pessimists, but realists, facing up to the gravity of our task and using for its accomplishment those qualities that have made our country great in times of peace and war alike."

Those are brave and necessary words. They come from a man who knows his subject. He knows his country; he knows her people are capable of rising to great heights; he knows that no sentimental slush will ease the way round a solid mass of economic reality. But Sir Stafford likewise was dropping a gentle hint to the United States when he described a condition that will not be lost on realists in Washington.

ONCE MORE UNTO THE BREACH

INDICATIONS THAT BRITONS, already harassed by short rations and meagre living, will be called upon for still greater austerity in order to survive the national economic crisis, may well make people on this side of the Atlantic wonder how much a nation can bear. True, the plight of the population is much better than that of some European countries, but in the latter cases, such as Germany, the people are not bearing their hardships voluntarily in order to achieve a goal. They are existing under them because there is no other choice. Britain, struggling to overcome her war losses, has chosen present abstinence in order that she may work for future prosperity.

It has become trite, because so often exemplified, to say that Britons are at their best when their backs are to the wall, and the government, therefore, need fear no lack of support in its further efforts to balance the country's import and export trade. The Yorkshire Post, commenting on the present "crisis," struck the keynote today when it said: "We are eagerly waiting to see the government take bold steps to appeal to the nation's patriotism and self respect." Here is a challenge to British leadership that should not go unanswered.

NO GAG

MUCH AS THE IRE OF BRITONS MAY be roused by the tone of some dispatches by United States correspondents from Palestine, the suggestion advanced by a British Labor member of the House of Commons, that they be denied facilities to transmit their news stories, will find little support in freedom-loving countries. The parliamentarian referred to contends that the correspondents in question should be denied facilities enabling them to "continue to print incitements to terrorism in Palestine."

It is conceivable, of course, that the ranks of reputable newspapermen on the ground in the Holy Land have been infiltrated by the type which feeds venom to the Ben Hechts, Walter Winchells and members of the American League for a Free Palestine Inc. And it is possible that much hatred is being created by their writings. But there are two points of cardinal importance to be kept in mind when considering their position.

In the first place, their writing serves largely to discredit the extremists whose cause they champion. Secondly, if freedom of access to news were denied such individuals, the suspicion that would be aroused would be definitely more damaging than are the words they cable. It requires no imagination to foresee the cries of suppression and the charges of "iron curtainism" that would be raised to the skies by such individuals.

It is unfortunate that freedom may breed license in the treatment of some of the news. But the alternative is too great a hazard to the cause of liberty of expression. Reputable news gathering agencies do not, of course, entrust reporting tasks in such vital centres as Palestine to irresponsible workmen.

COMMUNITY TRIUMPH

THOUSANDS OF SOUTHERN VANCOUVER Island residents today held a new appreciation of community effort following participation yesterday in the All Sooke Day festival. The event, the eleventh of its kind, reflected great credit on the energetic committees which spared no effort to make the day a success. That it exceeded expectations may be taken for granted from the fact that a new attendance record of more than 8,000 was established.

The value of such functions cannot be over-emphasized. An excellent program and a well-stocked barbecue created a most favorable impression on visitors. They have seen not only the fruits of energy, initiative and planning in the Sooke style, but they also have viewed the natural attractions of the district which boasts this progressive settlement. How many may return to the region to establish homes as a result of their introduction to it yesterday is, of course, conjectural. On the other hand, those who enjoyed the day will have carried away with them indelible impressions of a vigorous community competent to translate imaginative planning of an ambitious program into an actuality.

On the general lines of a giant picnic, Sooke has shown its wares in a most attractive fashion. All who contributed to the success of the event deserve sincere congratulations.

TALK ACHIEVES NOTHING

DOZENS OF TIMES IN RECENT YEARS we have argued in these columns that a basic part of civic policy should be occupied with the cleaning up of the beaches of this community. We heartily agree with our morning contemporary when it insists that something of a practical nature be done—and without delay.

That stretch of the Dallas Road, to which we have referred here so often, ought to be and could be transformed into an attractive part of our much-vaunted waterfront. But at the moment, and for several years, it has been nothing more than a disgusting mess.

Surely it is time for action by the City Council, Chamber of Commerce, and other organizations of a community which prides itself in a belief that the future of this southern part of Vancouver Island has important potentialities.

UNDER THE GUN

IT IS ONE OF THE FASCINATIONS OF newspaper life to work "under the gun." The phrase connotes extreme pressure, the rush to get copy in before the deadline and to surmount obstacles in order to have the news in print while it is still hot and exclusive. Ross Munro, distinguished Canadian Press war correspondent, worked "under the gun" to give the world some of the major stories of the Second World War. Following Dieppe he sat before his typewriter, hammering out copy though exhausted, nibbling "bennies" to keep himself awake and scoring beats in a magnificent job of reporting.

"Working under the gun" is an accomplishment of which a newspaperman may be proud. We are stimulated by its implications today as we, too, figuratively work under a gun—the pneumatic drill that is punching parking meter holes in the sidewalk just outside the window. But this is a different kind of gun and there is little satisfaction in surmounting the obstacles to thought which its machine-gun staccato presents. We are moved to wonder if the work could not be done at some less disruptive time, when employees in business premises would not have been subject to this attack on their concentration. Whatever the reaction may be to the meters when they are installed, the preparation for them carries its own headaches—and in a very literal sense.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE, TOO LOUD

AS THE UNITED STATES lawmakers head for home (and happy months of fence-mending), the best way to say a final farewell to the Eightieth Congress is to assess what it has done. And such an assessment, in turn, will be the best explanation of why America, this great wealthy, powerful and populous nation, is in these days like a giant bound in chains of his own devising.

History will undoubtedly hold that in the domestic field the most important single act of the Eightieth Congress was the statute unifying the armed services, jammed through huffer-mugger in the last days. Besides this, the Congress has shown itself significantly flabby in the presence of lobbyists. It has passed two political tax bills in the certain knowledge they would be vetoed. And it has placed on the statute books a labor law in which grave defects are already being discerned, even before it has come into full legal operation.

ON THE FOREIGN "SIDE," largely owing to the commanding leadership of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, the record is considerably better. What President Truman has ventured to ask for, the Congress has in general granted. Real milestones have thus been passed, as with the Greece-Turkey aid bill. Yet no one familiar with the desperate gravity of the world situation can be at all satisfied. American foreign policy, as developed by Congress and the administration together since Jan. 1, has been too little, too late and too loud.

That is the only honest way to characterize the manner in which the United States has thus far met the challenge of the Soviet Union's proposal and economic warfare against the western world. And as one searches for the reason for this slowness, inadequacy and bluster with which the Soviet challenge has been met, a single curious and ominous fact begins to stand out. The whole earth, in the years since the war, has been divided into two great factions, one led by the Soviet Union, the other led by the United States. And not the Soviet Union alone, but the United States also, is in a strange way the prisoner of its own government system.

THE IMPRISONMENT in their system of the Soviet people and their leaders must be obvious to any student of the ways of governments. All over the world men and women of good will sadly ask: "Why must there be this contest? Why cannot there be trust between nations?" The sad fact is that mistrust, suspicion and aggression are inherent characteristics of the Soviet system at present.

How can it be otherwise? Even in wartime, when Soviet-American relations were at their warmest, intercepted dispatches of the Soviet Ambassadors in Washington proved to be mere "Daily Worker" editorials. The Canadian Royal Commission investigation has disclosed no less than five bitterly competing Soviet espionage nets, which can, of course, only compete by reporting sensational and horrors. Besides these, the Kremlin derives some information from the executives of its subordinate Communist parties. While the Kremlin bases its policy decisions on data from such sources, what else could be expected except what has occurred?

THUS THERE IS NO WAY to turn the Kremlin from its course, except to confront it with hard facts—facts of failure in aggression, facts of prosperity and stability in the western world which it is attacking—facts which cannot be ignored or minimized by dialectics. This is the American task, if the western world is to survive.

But in this task in turn Americans are too loud, because the President cannot move, the Congress to such action as the Greece-Turkey aid bill without driving the lawmakers forward with the whip of sheer terror. Americans are too little, because the administration dares not present to the hostile Congress programs which will cover the full needs of the world situation. And they are too late, because such programs as are presented must always wait upon a long process of preparation and education, both of Congressional and of public opinion. If short, the U.S., too, is prisoner of her governmental system. The founders designed it in a time when the best government was the least government. It has the defect of its virtue; it is always in danger of not working at all. And in these times, a government which does not work, which is impotent to act, is a short way to national disaster.

CONGRESS HAS ITS ample quota of petty politicians, blind reactionaries and narrow men complacently wallowing in their own ignorance, but the real fault is not with Congress, which is simply an average body of Americans, with plenty of decent, industrious, intelligent men to balance against the bad apples in the barrel. The real fault is with the system. Under the system the executive has a monopoly of information, but no power to act without Congress, while the Congress lacks the information by which to judge the executive's proposals for action. The result is semi-stalemate. The stalemate can be overcome only by developing the insufficient beginning of the so-called bipartisan foreign policy into an entirely new relationship between the administration and Congress. The urgent need for this new relationship is the real lesson of the last six months.

What Shapes Soviet Foreign Policy

Following is the first of two extracts from an article entitled "The Sources of Soviet Conduct," in the quarterly, Foreign Affairs. The authorship was not disclosed, but it is believed to have been written by one who is high in the councils of the State Department of the United States, and therefore to reflect United States official opinion. A second extract will follow tomorrow.

It lies in the nature of the mental world of the Soviet leaders, as well as in the character of their ideology, that no opposition to them can be officially recognized as having any merit or justification whatsoever. Such opposition can flow, in theory, only from the hostile and incorrigible forces of dying capitalism.

As long as remnants of capitalism were officially recognized as existing in Russia, it was possible to place on them, as an internal element, part of the blame for the maintenance of a dictatorial form of society. But as these remnants were liquidated, little by little, this justification fell away; and when it was indicated officially that they had been finally destroyed, it disappeared altogether.

'MENACE' ABOARD

This fact created one of the most basic of the compulsions which came to act upon the Soviet regime: since capitalism no longer existed in Russia and since it could not be admitted that there could be serious widespread opposition to the Kremlin springing spontaneously from the liberated masses under its authority, it became necessary to justify the retention of the dictatorship by stressing the menace of capitalism abroad.

This began at an early date. In 1924 Stalin specifically defended the retention of the "organs of suppression," meaning, among others, the army and the secret police, on the ground that "as long as there is a capitalist encirclement there will be danger of intervention with all the consequences that flow from that danger." In accordance with that theory, and from that time on, all internal opposition forces in Russia have consistently been portrayed as the agents of foreign forces of reaction antagonistic to Soviet power.

NO REALITY

By the same token, tremendous emphasis has been placed on the original Communist thesis of a basic antagonism between Capitalist and Socialist worlds. It is clear, from many indications, that this emphasis is not founded in reality.

The real facts concerning the existence abroad of genuine resentment provoked by Soviet philosophy and tactics and occasionally by the existence of great centres of military power, notably the Nazi regime in Germany and the Japanese government of the late 1930's, which did indeed have aggressive designs against the Soviet Union.

But there is ample evidence that the stress laid in Moscow on the menace confronting Soviet society from the world outside its borders is founded not in the realities of foreign antagonism but in the necessity of explaining away the maintenance of dictatorial authority at home.

IRON DISCIPLINE

Now the maintenance of this pattern of Soviet power, namely, the pursuit of unlimited authority domestically, accompanied by the cultivation of the semi-myth of implacable foreign hostility, has gone far to shape the actual machinery of Soviet power as we know it today. The security of Soviet power came to rest on the iron discipline of the party, on the severity and ubiquity of the secret police, and on the uncompromising economic monopolism of the state. The "organs of suppression," in which the Soviet leaders had sought security from rival forces, became in large measure the masters of those whom they were designed to serve.

Today the major part of the structure of Soviet power is committed to the perfection of the dictatorship and to the maintenance of the concept of Russia as in a state of siege, with the enemy glowering beyond the walls. And the millions of human beings who form that part of the structure of power must defend at all costs this concept of Russia's position, for without it they are themselves superfluous.

Cloud In The East

By JOSEPH LISTER RUTLEDGE

MORE AND MORE clearly the lines are being drawn in the tragic drama of Europe. More and more it is becoming obvious that this drama is bound to color all our lives. It is a titanic struggle between people who want peace, and people who want to be prepared for war. On the one side is Russia, suspicious of every move, believing that the restoration of Europe might mean the weakening of her influence. She is fearful that once those nations that are now under her influence are committed to co-operation, they may be unable to resist the temptation of food and industrial supplies, that might be provided under the Marshall plan. So they might move out of the orbit of Russia into that of the United States.

RUSSIAN FEAR

In her great campaign of power politics, that is Russia's fear, that she should lose her position of dominance and her control over her satellite nations. It is becoming constantly more apparent that under this suspicion and fear she will sacrifice the restoration of Europe and even restrict her own.

That has been evident in her attitude towards the Conference of European Economic Co-operation that opened recently in Paris. It was hoped that the "Marshall Plan," which seemed the most hopeful suggestion yet to appear, might be fully discussed and approved by all the nations of Europe. It is a reasonable plan. It suggests the assessment of the present resources of Europe, the planning of co-ordinated measures of self-help, such as the eliminating of hampering trade barriers, and that with their own resources known and properly regulated, the nations should then plan how the United States might best serve them in helping themselves. It is not a very revolutionary plan but, for all that, Russia is in sharp opposition. Russia suspects that the operation of any such plan would involve the intrusion behind the "Iron Curtain" that she does not intend to permit. By establishing economic benefits it might loosen her hold, as has been said, over her present satellite nations. But most of all Russia fears that the "Marshall Plan" would tend to postpone the economic collapse that she believes to be imminent in the United States. Russia does not want it postponed. If and when it comes, she plans to capitalize it by establishing further dominance in Europe, and so her power position in the world.

CRACKED THE WHIP

Therefore, when the appeal was made for united action by Europe, Russia "countered" by cracking the whip over eight of the smaller nations that are definitely dependent on her good will. So, lined up in Europe, hopefully planning for a new day, are sixteen western European nations representing just short of 219,000,000 people. Against them is the eastern European block, somewhat reluctantly following Russia's lead, a total of 280,000,000 people.

To those people who insist on believing that Russia is a much-maligned nation, full of good will for Europe, these facts may be disturbing. We can make a choice between those who are trying to make a world where people can live happily and at peace, and the autocracy of the few whose dream of power is driving a great nation towards the brink of war.

intend to permit. By establishing economic benefits it might loosen her hold, as has been said, over her present satellite nations. But most of all Russia fears that the "Marshall Plan" would tend to postpone the economic collapse that she believes to be imminent in the United States. Russia does not want it postponed. If and when it comes, she plans to capitalize it by establishing further dominance in Europe, and so her power position in the world.

OLDER WORKERS

National Health and Welfare Service
Surveys conducted in Canada and elsewhere prove that workers in middle life are generally the best types of employees. Far from being "washed up" at 45, the older worker is less likely to be away from work without good cause, has greater stability, and is far less likely to have an accident. To this point, out the authorities, must be added the value of experience acquired by years on the job.

The surveys were particularly important in view of estimates that more than 5,000,000 Canadians will be more than 45 years old in 1971!

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign News Analyst

BRITAIN'S DRASTIC decision to reduce its global military commitments, in a further effort to overcome the economic crisis gripping the country, is a potent reminder that the United States is the last of the great democratic powers still capable of fully manning a war-machine—and that this can be a mighty lonesome world.

This reduction of military commitments was one of the concessions Prime Minister Attlee promised the Labor members of parliament, meeting in secret caucus yesterday to listen with critical attention to an accounting of his stewardship.

The Prime Minister defended his position with determination. The result was that he won a virtual vote of confidence from the caucus.

However, a high government source says that Attlee may make changes in his cabinet soon. In this connection the political correspondent of the London Daily Mail said yesterday, prior to the caucus, that the only concession the Prime Minister was prepared to make would be the formation of a sort of emergency battle squad of five senior ministers to tackle the economic problems. The big five would be Attlee himself, Foreign Minister Bevin, Chancellor of the Exchequer Dalton, deputy prime minister Morrison and President of the Board of Trade Sir Stafford Cripps.

So Mr. Attlee's government would seem to have weathered a nasty hurricane. The storm signals aren't down yet, though, and won't be until there is marked improvement in the economic situation—a matter of concern not only to the people of Britain but to the world at large—especially America.

CLIPPED AT RANDOM

RIDDLE TO SOLVE

Financial Post
Very general, we find, is the uncomfortable feeling that none of the things, like the social service state, nor full employment, nor free beer, nor better motion pictures, are going to solve man's immemorial problem: living with himself in contentment and with his neighbors in peace; above all, in knowing that there is some point to life, that he has some part of the answer to the riddle of human existence.

'HURTY' FEET

The Reader's Digest
A stout woman settled herself in the bus seat ahead of me and was soon joined by a friend. "Did you get a new pair of shoes?" the latter inquired. Her friend looked puzzled, then she threw back her head and roared with laughter. "You saw me in that store?" she said in a confidential whisper that would have carried a block. "Just between the two of us, I go in there every time I'm downtown. It gives me a chance to sit down and take off my shoes. Anyone who sees me thinks I'm shopping and not just a fat old lady whose feet hurt."

ENOUGH SAID

S. P. Tyler in Toronto Saturday Night
From Hansard:
"Mr. Claxton: . . . What I intervened to say was not to say what the minister intended to say, but to suggest to my hon. friend that he had not said what my hon. friend said he had said." For the sake of clarity, it can be said that the hon. friend said the minister had said what he had said. The minister had said what he had said. The hon. friend said the minister had said what he had said. The minister had said what he had said.

GENTLEMAN OF THE PRESS

Vancouver Sun
The death of Mr. Ernest Walter removes from the Vancouver newspaper scene a man whose personal graciousness matched the charm of his writing.

Down at the police court, no less than among his confreres in the Fourth Estate, Ernest Walter will be remembered as first of all a gentleman, kindly, cultured, and with a ready wit that was never barbed with malice. Steeped in Dickens, he was a humanitarian in the fullest sense of the word. He found something good to say of the worst, and he saw many of them as he sat before the magistrate. And he was not above poking fun at those who sometimes took themselves a little too seriously.

One would look far to find anyone speaking ill of Mr. Walter. He made friends, not enemies, as he went his way. Today their sorrow at his passing is deep.

THE BODY'S DEFENCE

The body's chief defence against heat is evaporation of sweat. Drinking small quantities of water frequently is preferred to large quantities at one time. Body loses salt in sweating and four to five teaspoonfuls of salt a day are needed in hot weather to replace this loss.

Sweat which runs off in streams is not cooling. Wearing loose, light, thin clothes and exposing the body to air currents is advisable. Carbonated beverages are helpful because they have sugar content and because they are more quickly absorbed from the stomach.

GREENWICH IS CENTRE FOR TIME AND LONGITUDE

There is a place in England which has something to do with "time" and "longitude." That place is known as Greenwich (pronounced Gren-itch) and it is a borough which makes up a part of Greater London. The population is about 100,000.

Greenwich has been a "centre of science" since the year 1675. At that time King Charles II set up a royal observatory there. Men were employed to study the stars, and to make records and charts.

Stars are used to reckon time. They seem to change position each night because of the twisting motion of the earth, and there are other changes because of the seasons. Long study has made it possible to check the time by observing the stars.

Thanks to the royal observatory, the fame of Greenwich spread far and wide. It became known as a place where the exact time could be learned. After the electric telegraph was invented, Greenwich time signals were flashed to many cities. Radio now is used for this purpose.

Great care is taken of the clocks in the Greenwich observatory, for lines of longitude, and the choice fell on Greenwich.

A line of longitude runs from the North Pole to the South Pole. The line which runs through Greenwich is "zero longitude." All the lines of longitude are imaginary, but they are marked on maps and charts. The next line east of Greenwich is "one degree east longitude." The line just to the west of Greenwich is "one degree west longitude."

The 74th line west of Greenwich just misses Montreal, and cuts New York City. The 75th line goes across Philadelphia. The 19th line runs through New Orleans, and comes close to St. Louis.

Concerts Arranged Under Union's Fund

Victorians starting today will begin to reap the benefits of James C. Petrillo's $1,000,000 transcription fund.

Two years ago Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians, A.F.M., negotiated for the setting up of a transcription fund, representing royalties collected by the federation on transcribed music. A proportionate share of the fund has been turned back to the Victoria local of the American Federation of Musicians with the stringent proviso that the money be used to provide musical entertainment to Victoria music lovers without charges of any kind.

Members of the Victoria local, following discussions on the disposition of the donation, have decided to hold a series of concerts to which all Victorians will be invited. The series will start with a concert at Memorial Park, Esquimalt, at 7.30, Thursday night, the band being under the direction of Harry Blgsby.

Officers of the union announced a further concert will be held at Oak Bay shortly and it is planned that concerts will also be held at the Royal Jubilee Hospital and the Queen Alexandra Solarium.

The DOCTOR Says:

WHAT TO DO IF THE HEAT GETS YOU
 By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

In sun or heat stroke the heat regulating mechanism of the body fails to function and overheating occurs. Sunstroke is not the same as heat exhaustion or prostration, as the body temperature is normal or below normal in these conditions. Some patients with heat exhaustion later develop sunstroke.

Heat stroke can occur so quickly that death is almost instantaneous. Ordinarily there are warning signs such as headache, dizziness, sick stomach, and difficulty in seeing. Most victims lose consciousness and drop in their tracks.

Patients with heat strokes have hot, dry, red skins. Body temperature can go to 109 degrees Fahrenheit. Breathing is deep and pulse full and rapid. In treating heat stroke the objective is to get the body temperature down to normal as soon as possible. If patients survive the first day, recovery is the rule.

Victim should be moved to a cool place and placed in a prone position. Clothes should be removed and the body sprinkled with a watering can or hose, while vigorous fanning is done to promote evaporation.

In hospital practice the body may be covered with a sheet soaked in alcohol and an electric fan played over the surface to prevent the blood vessels in the skin from becoming too constricted from the application of cold, the body and extremities should be rubbed to increase circulation. Heart and lung stimulants may be necessary in severe cases.

Following an attack, victims show increased susceptibility to

1,581 Parcels Sent To Britain; Need More Funds To Keep Flow

The sending of 1,581 parcels of food to the people of Britain at a cost of $9,869 has almost depleted the Mayor's Fund, Mrs. F. E. Dowdall, chairman of the administrative committee said today.

With letters of gratitude coming in from the recipients of the parcels almost daily, Mrs. Dowdall said they would continue sending parcels so long as funds were forthcoming. Donations to the fund can be made at the City Hall. The fund today stands at $9,969.

The vicar of Barton, writing on behalf of some of his parishioners who have received parcels, said the gifts arrived in "good condition and gave great pleasure to those who received them. For old people living alone, these parcels are a God-send," the vicar said, "and we all appreciate the kind thoughts of those who have made it possible for this food to be sent here. May God bless you all."

The mother of two growing boys at Bream Wood in Hertfordshire wrote what a great boon the parcels was as it was impossible to satisfy the children, let alone give them the correct food to maintain health. "It is a difficult enough task even when they are at school, for a midday meal," she said.

An elderly gentleman in Norwich, whose son fought side by side with Canadian soldiers, declared in his letter "It really was a God-send as my cupboard was like Old Mother Hubbard's—bare except for a loaf of bread. I reckon it seems impossible to you people over there but it's quite true. In fact I'm sorry to say it's over the case here." He said his son had told him of fighting side by side with the sons of Canada—he said they were real pals. They never let you down. I should imagine by what I have heard, yours must be a wonderful country and very nice friendly people."

A couple in Birmingham praised the "thoughtful selection of so many delicacies, which are so difficult to obtain here," particularly the suet which will enable them to make pudding in the proper style.

One lady from Edgware wrote that she is going to keep part of the contents of her parcel for Christmas dinner. "We become old-age pensioners next year so do not get any luxuries," she said, "yet every article being a luxury in the parcel we have certainly got a heap at once."

A large number have told Mrs. Dowdall in their letters that the parcels sent by the citizens of Victoria are the first food parcels they have ever received.

Sees Average Crop If Rains Come Quickly

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Winnipeg Tribune, in its fifth 1947 crop review, spoke with a note of qualified optimism today—last day of the 1946-47 crop year—on the state of the prairie crops.

"Admitting prospects had deteriorated materially in the last three weeks because of hot, dry weather, the Tribune predicted a better-than-average crop still can be harvested provided generous rains fall within the next few days.

The eight-year average for wheat in the prairie provinces is about 380,000,000 bushels. Last year they yielded about 400,000,000.

"The wheat crop now shows widely-varied prospects ranging from a complete failure in parts of northern Saskatchewan to anticipated yields of as much as 40 bushels to the acre in parts of Manitoba," the report said. "Over the greater part of the three prairie provinces, however, wheat is standing up well under the blistering temperatures."

Barley and flax had suffered most and yields from these would be generally disappointing. Oats had suffered to a lesser degree.

Loaders Balk At Ammonium Nitrate

NEW YORK (AP)—Refusal of Brooklyn longshoremen to load a ship carrying ammonium nitrate, the fertilizer that was carried by ships that exploded in the Brest, France, and Texas City disasters, raised the possibility today that ships with ammonium nitrate aboard may be barred from the port of New York.

Eighty longshoremen, who were to put general cargo aboard the S. S. Molda, walked off Wednesday. They demanded they be given double, or "ammunition" pay, that special safety precautions be taken, and that the ship be moved to the harbor zone for dangerous ships.

Fire Commissioner Frank J.

Quayle said that unless ships loaded with ammonium nitrate can be "completely controlled" he might "go so far as to bar from the port of New York vessels laden with this highly explosive commodity."

Building permits have been issued to M. Ferguson to convert 1004 Terrace Avenue, the old Sir Percy Lake home, into three suites at a cost of $4,000; to David Spencer Ltd. to make alterations to the Arcade Building on Broad

Sudbury Boy Rescued In Wilds

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP)—Found huddled against a log in rocky hills more than a mile north of here, six-year-old Gordon Boston of Sudbury was taken to a hospital today after 36 hours in the hills. The lad was too weak to walk and will remain in the hospital for a few days.

A search party of 100 men hunted for the boy, who became separated from his father and a younger brother while out on the rocks. Scores of nickel miners combed the country while the father, E. J. Boston, stayed up almost all night, using flashlights in an effort to find his son. The boy's mother is visiting her mother in Saskatchewan.

Scientist Predicts Horrible War Devises

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. (Reuter)—Bacteriological attacks bringing horrible new afflictions, fields sprinkled with growth-limiting chemicals, and people killed, maimed and injured by radio-active poisons, will be the fate of every country in future wars, Britain's leading atomic scientist, Prof. Lancelot Oliphant, warned Wednesday.

He predicted destruction would be swept over countries by pilotless planes and long-range guided missiles of the rocket type. Specially-bred disease germs would be sprinkled in the air and subtle chemicals would be dusted over fields in minute amounts, "inhibiting ordinary processes of life in man."

King Gives Formal Consent To Marriage Of Princess

LONDON (Reuter)—The King today declared his formal consent to the marriage of Princess Elizabeth, heir-presumptive to the British throne, and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten at a Privy Council meeting in Buckingham Palace. Hon. C. D. Howe attended for Canada.

The King has already given his consent to the betrothal in the official Court Circular. Today, as required by the Royal Marriages Act of 1772, he gave his consent to the marriage.

The ceremony was brief. Lord President of the Council Herbert Morrison read an order-in-council. The King bowed and said "approved."

Others present included the King's brother, the Duke of Gloucester; the Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of All England; Prime Minister Attlee; Conservative Leader Churchill; James Stratford, former Chief Justice of South Africa; New Zealand High Commissioner William J. Jordan; and Australian High Commissioner John A. Beasley.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the King sent a telegram to the governors-general, his personal representatives in the Dominions, asking them to communicate his action to their respective counsels—to the Privy Council for Canada, in the case of Canada, and to the executive councils in the case of the other three Dominions.

Two more essential preliminary aries to the royal marriage were carried out by the King today after the council. He signed an instrument submitted from the Home Office setting out his consent, to which the Great Seal of England was afterwards affixed.

The King also sent a warrant to the Archbishop for the wedding.

It is understood on the highest authority that the King's action at the Privy Council meeting is not properly described as giving his consent to the marriage of the heiress to the throne. The position was that the princess, like any other descendant of George II, petitioned the King to allow her to marry. The Council had to be held as a legal rather than a constitutional necessity.

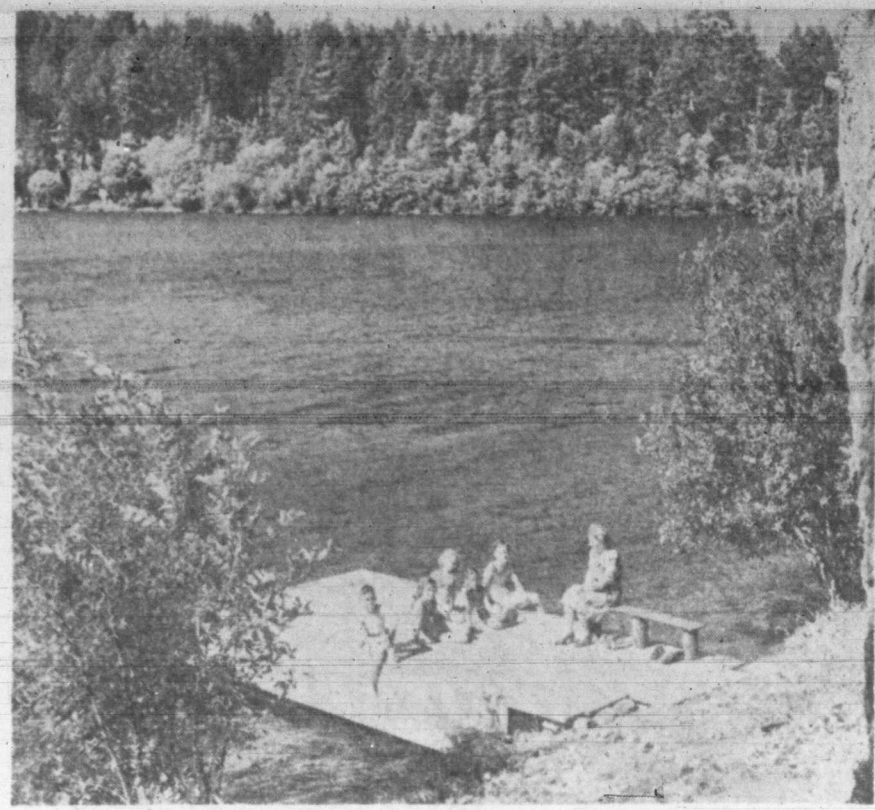

LEGAL STEP

A high constitutional authority said after the Privy Council meeting: "The Royal Marriage Act of 1772 provides that descendants of King George II who have not attained the age of 25 shall not be capable of contracting matrimony without the previous consent of the sovereign signed under the Great Seal and declared in council."

"Princess Elizabeth being one of the descendants to whom the act applies, the consent of the King declared in council is a necessary legal preliminary to her marriage."

"At the meeting of the Privy Council held at Buckingham Palace today His Majesty formally gave his consent to the marriage under the above action in the customary manner."

Nylon Net, Lace Fashion Bridal Gown

White nylon net clouded over whispering taffeta to fashion the bouffant-skirted gown inset with delicate lace and with fitted bodice and short puff sleeves was worn by Miss Bonney Geraldine Deacon for her marriage Wednesday, at 3, to P.O. Sidney Robert Dobing, R.C.N., Edson, Alta.

Rev. W. R. Ashford heard the vows repeated by the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Deacon, 2605 Burdick Avenue, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Dobing, Edson, Alta., at Centennial United Church.

Mrs. R. J. Garner presided at the organ and Mrs. Paul Naftel sang "I'll Walk Beside You."

An embroidered net veil misted from clusters of orange blossoms over the wedding gown as the bride entered the church with her father. She wore lace mitts and carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations. A pearl necklace was her only jewelry.

An arm bouquet of mauve gladioli and pink carnations was carried by bridal attendant Miss Sadie Button, who was gowned in pink taffeta with floral head-dress.

CPO. C. Owsanski, R.C.N., attended the groom, and CPO. Norman Pletch, R.C.N., was usher.

The newlyweds, assisted by their mothers, welcomed guests at a reception at the Priory. Frank Honor gave the bridal toast. Silver candelabra holding pink candles, flanked the three-tier cake set on the bridal table. Sweet peas in pink and white were arranged in a silver epergne.

P.O. and Mrs. Dobing will honeymoon in Seattle before taking up temporary residence at 2605 Burdick Avenue. The bride traveled in a beige tricot suit with smart brown and white accessories.

Pupils Will Miss Lizzie Jamieson

MONTREAL (CP)—For more than three decades Miss Lizzie Jamieson has been handing out soup, sandwiches and ice cream along with a unique line of chatter in the cafeteria of the High School of Montreal. At the end of the school term, Lizzie completed 33 years of service and retired.

"She has been part of the building" first to arrive and last to leave—according to present and former students. This year the annual school magazine is dedicated to the charming woman with the kindly face—evidence of the high regard in which she is held.

Miss Grace Gardner, principal of the High School for Girls, described Lizzie's continued interest in the students' welfare. During the 1919 'flu epidemic in Montreal, she was among volunteers at the children's centre.

When she first came to the school, 300 students were served in the cafeteria. That number has grown to 2,400 and larger future classes will likely hear stories of Lizzie for many years to come.

Indian Woman Fights Way To First Diplomatic Role

NEW YORK (AP)—A dusky-skinned, sari-clad, delicate little woman, incongruously carrying a heavy, overstuffed briefcase, was one of the outstanding personalities at the general assembly of the United Nations a few months ago.

Today that same woman, Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, has stepped aside as head of India's U.N. delegation to become the British government's first ambassador in Russia on behalf of India, and the Empire's first woman ambassador. Mrs. Pandit is faced with a touchy, gravely important job to be performed in the uneasy days of India's emergency to independence.

No political meteorite, this 47-year-old fighter for Indian independence has climbed steadily and surely to the front and now belongs to a tiny sorority of world-famous women leaders.

Mrs. Pandit's father, a wealthy Indian lawyer named Motilal Nehru, was one of the early leaders in India's long struggle for independence. Her brother, Jawaharlal Nehru, is one of India's most powerful men.

Seasoned diplomats and politicians watched her performance in presenting India's case at the U.N. and openly expressed their admiration. She ruled committees with an iron hand, marshalled her facts like a lawyer, avoided waste motion and used her small delegation to the best possible advantage.

Mrs. Pandit has been fighting for India and Indians, shoulder-to-shoulder with the rest of her family, for years. She was the first woman minister in any of the Indian governments—in the congress ministry of the United Provinces from 1937 to 1939. Even as she headed her country's U.N. delegation she was Minister of Public Health and Local Self-government for the United Provinces.

Like so many other Indian leaders, she spent some time in prison—on two occasions. Her brother, Pandit Nehru, and her late husband, Dr. Ranjit Pandit, served much longer terms. Even the two Pandit children, both girls, have been imprisoned.

Through all her activities, Mrs. Pandit's interests have focused on the single cause of Indian "swaraj"—independence—and her later-day honors are witness to the success of her generalship.

Her appearance and her family background, however, seem to make her public life a paradox. Her family life is of the very highest Indian caste—Kashmiri Brahmin. But like most liberal Indians, the nation's caste system seems to play little part in her public life.

While Mrs. Pandit has been concerned with the broad problems of her country's freedom, among her deepest personal interests has been the fight for equal rights for Indian women, who are pioneering in the women's rights in the east.

Mrs. Pandit also is vitally concerned with improving the public health of the vast sub-continent which has always been plagued by epidemic and famine. Before her, in her role of ambassador, is probably the most difficult job she ever has tackled. The shadow of vast Russia looms large in the north of her huge country, soon to be partitioned into Hindu and Moslem states. The influence of Russia within her country cannot be measured exactly, but most observers think Russia is interested in many phases of Indian life—and has achieved already a foothold among the untouchables.

Import Brides, Bachelor Plea

CAPTOWN (CP)—Bachelors in Capetown are alarmed at the flow of unmarried male immigrants to South Africa and fear that the shortage of marriageable young women in the Cape may become even more acute.

One bachelor, in a letter to the press, has suggested that authorities re-introduce the practice of the old Cape government, which imported wives for settlers—a scheme that met with remarkable success.

Social Situations

The situation: You are a house guest and share a bathroom with members of the family you are visiting or with another guest.

Wrong way: Leave your toothbrush, tooth paste, jars, and bottles in the bathroom.

Right way: Keep your toilet articles together in a handy container as you do when traveling, and take them back to your room when you have finished using them so that they do not clutter up the bathroom for others.

'Frost' Glass To Dress Up Drink

Cool off with frosted cranberry juice.

Even the sight of a tray of iced fruit drinks brings down the temperature. Particularly, if the rim of the glass is "frosted."

That's an easy trick. Break an egg into a small bowl. In another bowl place a little sugar. Now place the top of the glass into the egg about 1/2 inch and then swirl the top about in the sugar to coat. That's your "frosted" glass ready for a chilled drink.

Fruit or berry sherbet added to a tall glass of sparkling water makes a delightful "special" drink. Here's one sherbet recipe with a tangy refreshing flavor and vivid color.

CRANBERRY SHERBET

(Serves 6)
One 1-pound can jellied cranberry sauce, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/4 cup orange juice, 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 2 egg whites beaten stiff, or 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped.

Crush cranberry sauce with a fork. Add juices and rinds. Pour into freezing tray of automatic refrigerator and freeze with control at coldest setting, until sherbet is mushy. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites or whipped cream and continue freezing mixture until stiff.

Ever try this easy and bright flavored cooler? Combined chilled canned unsweetened grapefruit juice with chilled canned or fresh tomato juice, in proportion—2 parts grapefruit juice to 1 part tomato juice.

Make fresh berry juice for tall coolers. For each pint of fresh berries, add about 1/4 cup of sugar, depending on sweetness of berries. (Use less sugar for frozen berries.) Stand 2 hours. Drain off juice. There will be a little less than 1 1/2 cups. That will make about six drinks, particularly if you add a few drops of lemon juice. Allow four tablespoons to each drink. Pour over crushed ice in tall glass. Then fill glass with sparkling water or ginger ale.

Let's Eat!

Stuffed Marrow—Cut a small marrow in half lengthwise and remove seeds. Place marrow halves on a greased baking sheet and fill with following mixture: 2 cups soft stale bread crumbs, 1 small onion, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 2 tablespoons melted fat. Bake for 1 hour in moderate oven.

String-Bean Salad—1 1/2 pounds string beans, cut up, (4 cups cooked), 3 slices bacon, diced, 3 minced green onions, 1/2 tablespoon cider vinegar, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 large bunch lettuce, 4 hot hard-cooked eggs, sliced. Cook beans until tender, drain. Saute bacon until crisp. Combine next 6 ingredients. Cut up greens in bowl; top with hot beans and eggs. Pour seasoning and hot bacon with fat over all. Toss well.

Salad Bread—1 loaf unsliced bread, 1/2 cup melted butter, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt. Trim crusts from bread. Slice into six portions, cutting to within 1/4 inch of bottom crust. To melted butter add parsley, onion and celery salt. Brush butter mixture on all cut surfaces of loaf. Place loaf of bread on heat-resistant glass utility platter. Bake in moderately hot oven for 15 minutes. Serve on hot platter with individual bowls of salad with special dressing.

French Fried Pears—1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, 3 eggs, 1 cup milk, 6 large ripe pears. Pare, halve and core pears. Sift together dry ingredients. Beat eggs and combine with milk and stir into flour mixture, blend thoroughly. Dip pears into batter and fry in hot fat for about 2 minutes or until browned. Drain on unglazed paper and serve with lemon sauce.

Variety For Fresh Vegetables

The problem today is not "what to cook for dinner" but "which vegetables or how many to cook." This is the time when every plant seems to be at its peak of growth. The early vegetables are still producing and late ones are beginning to develop.

Fresh vegetables are delicious in their variety of color and texture if simply boiled and served with a little butter, but the same vegetable seems entirely new if cooked in a variety of ways.

The familiar mixture of peas and carrots is all very well, but lacks originality. If these two vegetables are served together, why not have the carrots whole and peas served over them or if the whole or sliced carrots are sprinkled with chopped chives and the peas served in a sauce, the result is more interesting.

If small new potatoes, hot and buttered are sprinkled with freshly chopped mint leaves it eliminates making mint sauce to serve with the roast of lamb and they are specially good, too.

Fluffy As a Cloud—Cream cheese, spiked with orange juice, whipped light. Spread on gingerbread, cut in precise squares and garnish with gold shreds of orange peel.

Canadian Scottish At Camp Hold Fine Sports Program

The Heal Range summer tent camp of the Canadian Scottish Regiment's 1st battalion of the Reserve Army was the scene of a fine sports-day program Wednesday in which officers and men stripped down to shorts and socks, or running shoes, and vied against each other in track and field events for a handsome list of donated prizes.

The booming voice of R.S.M. Jim Stoddard controlled the show and informed the gallery of the victors as each event on the three-hour show was run off.

The camp, first outdoor training session of the Scottish since the rejuvenation of the "Fighting First" in the part-time army role in peacetime shortly after the end of the war, will break up Sunday.

The youngster spotlighted in the sports meet was Pte. Dick Dee. In running and field events he scored three firsts and one second. In the ranks of the W.O.'s and sergeants, Sgt. George Knight was in the victory limelight. He scored a first, two seconds and one third. In the officer ranks Maj. H. D. Thompson and Capt. J. R. Warburton, medical officer and adjutant, respectively, were prominent in the prize picture.

Pte. Dee scored in top place in the 100-yard race for members of the regiment and also in the high and long jumps and second in the 100-yard open race. Sgt. Knight placed first in the 100-yard open, second in the 100-yard event for members of the regiment only and the high jump and third in the one-mile steeplechase, this race getting that name due to ditch and fence obstacles.

OFFICER VICTORS

Capt. Warburton was second in the long jump, also wound up in that place in the officers' 100-yard dash and in the steeplechase, while Maj. Thompson made the prize list by a fine throwing performance. He heaved the softball 83 yards and the javelin 103.9 feet for the longest throws in those events.

Col. R. D. Travis, battalion commander, who got the biggest handicap due to length of service, won the 100-yard officer dash by his handicap margin. Cpl. H. McMillan took top prize in the standing broad jump and Pte. A. H. Raby was next. CSM. R. Richard threw the softball for the second greatest distance, while Sgt. John Kelly placed second in the javelin throw with a 101 feet, was also runner-up to CSM H. I. Johnston in the shot-put.

Pte. H. A. Grey won the mile steeplechase by 100 yards. Cadet Jim Caldwell was winner of the cadet 100 yard dash, Mrs. S. Park first in the ladies' race, and Mrs. R. D. Thompson second.

The sergeants and W.O.'s tug-of-war team was in splendid form, scoring an over-all victory in the tugging grinds. They pulled the officers over the line two-straight and did likewise with the men, two-war veteran, Sgt. James, coach.

Mrs. R. H. Tye, wife of Maj. Bob Tye, second-in-command, officiated at the presentation of prizes.

Most of this week has been devoted to weapon training and on Saturday the unit will swing into tactical schemes, using platoon weapons against defended areas. These will have realistic effects

Concert In Park Planned For Friday

First of a series of evening concerts and amateur shows at Beacon Hill Park will be held Friday under the sponsorship of the city parks committee.

The program includes dancing on the green to the music of the Hometowners, songs by Bob McGill and Fred Usher and an amateur contest with singers, dancers, whistlers and instrumentalists taking part.

Anyone wishing to enter the amateur contest is asked to telephone Fred Usher at B 2532.

Unite Agencies For Social Work

Amalgamation of the Children's Aid Society and the Family Welfare Association has taken place, and the two agencies are now operating as a single unit Mayor Percy George was informed.

A temporary board of directors has been set up for the organization, which is still operating under the charter of the Children's Aid Society. The acting president is Rev. J. L. W. McLean; honorary treasurer, W. P. Jeune, and honorary secretary, A. McDermid.

Miss Rae Kirkendall is acting superintendent; Mrs. H. Campbell, acting associate superintendent; and Miss M. Wright, acting assistant superintendent.

Action will be taken later to change the name of the new organization, Mayor George was told. The amalgamation took place after an intensive study of all conditions by Miss Marjorie Smith of the Social Work department of the University of B.C., last spring.

Members of the Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Society will attend a beach party Aug. 6, at Ten Mile Point.

Iron Mine With a Ghost Being Revived

In Colonial days, these giant waterwheels powered the Ringwood Mines smelting furnaces. One of the wheels is more than 200 years old; it played a part in making cannon for "Old Ironsides."

Dorothy Dix

IN-LAWS AND HAPPINESS

A woman with a bitter sense of humor and a serpent's tongue said the other day: "Charlotte has made such a wonderful marriage. She has married a man who was a doorstep baby who was reared in an orphan asylum and who hasn't a single known relative in the world."

The other women at the bridge table laughed, though a little self-consciously, but surely there was nothing to laugh over in the idea that for a man to have no family increases his eligibility. On the contrary, it would seem that no fate could be sadder than for a child never to have known the blessed security and peace of a home; never to have been cradled on a mother's breast; never to have felt the strong tie that binds brothers and sisters together.

Yet it is not to be denied that their respective families are the chief bone of contention in the great majority of homes, and that they do more to break up marriages than any other one thing. And this without reference to the individual characters, religious and social standing and general desirability. There seems to be something occult about it that makes in-laws allergic to each other and incapable of keeping out of each other's hair.

FEUDAL FODDER

A boy and girl may have lived next door to each other all of their lives. Their parents may have been the closest and dearest of friends, so that everyone thought that when John and Mary got married how fine it was to unite two such devoted families. But not once in a blue moon does it turn out that way. Oftener than not, instead of marriage making a peace pact between in-laws, it starts a feud.

Back of this is, of course, personal and feudal jealousy. Many a wife is so green-eyed over her husband having known his mother before he did her, and his still being fond of her that she hates her at sight. The husband is so determined to show his loyalty to the head of the house that he is not going to be dominated by his in-laws that he takes offence where it is least intended.

And although neither the husband nor wife have been particularly devoted to his or her family, both simply will not hear a word of criticism from their mates. The Smiths won't stand to be looked down on by the Joneses. Husbands have to be practically dragged by the napes of their necks to their wives' family parties, and when wife goes to see her husband's people she assumes the air of an early Christian martyr who is doing her duty at God knows what sacrifice to her own feelings.

GREAT IS THEIR REWARD

Of course, there are husbands and wives who really do like their in-laws and get along with them in peace and pleasure, and great is their reward. For when they do there is no other relationship that carries with it more real comfort and happiness than that which exists between married couples and their respective parents.

Three blessed are those fathers and mothers who in their children's marriages have gotten another son and daughter. And lucky, indeed, those youngsters who have acquired in marriage another beloved father and mother whom they can depend on always to hold out a helping hand to them in any time of need.

RINGWOOD, N.J. — An old ghost may come knocking on ancient walls, 2,700 feet deep in the earth here.

Patrick Moran, however, is betting that the ghost will keep silent.

Morgan bought for $1,275,000 the Ringwood iron ore mines which have been turning out ore since pre-revolutionary days. The mines have been unworked in recent years.

According to the legend remembered by oldtimers at Ringwood, the lonely ghost of a miner who was killed lives somewhere in the 2,700-foot deep shaft of the Peters mine. Some say he simply wants a company and knocks on the echoing walls of the shaft when another miner is to die in an accident and join him.

Miner Jack Corter, not at all superstitious, knocks right back at the ghost.

Here's how Ringwood Mines look today. Peters Mine shaft, into which the inclined railway drops, is 2,700 feet deep; legend says it's the home of a lonely ghost which knocks on the tunnel walls before an accident.

Some say the ghost is friendly and his knockings are simply a warning to other miners that an accident is about to occur.

But ghost or no ghost, miners in Ringwood are happy that the workings will be reopened. Thus far 200 have been employed in the Cannon mine. By the time the Peters shaft is in operation, Moran hopes to have 600 on the payroll.

The Ringwood mines were started by the British before the Revolution. When this country declared war on Britain, the ore was put to good use by the Colonists. The mines produced iron for the cannons on "Old Ironsides" and for the giant chain that was strung across the Hudson River below West Point to prevent British warships from bombarding forts and towns along the river.

In the years that followed, the mines helped to build the industrial East. In the last few decades they became less profitable and finally were abandoned.

When World War II broke out, the government took them over and spent $4,000,000 improving the equipment, but never mined much ore. Moran bought the property from the War Assets Administration.

The 877-acre property, besides the two shafts, includes a general store, dining-room and company homes. The dining-room section of the company store dates back to 1764. Many of the mine homes are 200 years old.

Butter Supplies In Canada Grow

OTTAWA (CP)—Butter supplies in Canada are improving sharply, the Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday, and other sources indicated there is little likelihood of Canadians going back on the butter ration.

Stocks of creamery butter in store in nine principal cities July 25 totaled 36,477,532 pounds, compared with a revised total of 33,440,024 pounds the previous week. With the supply thus advancing, official sources said it was "extremely unlikely" butter rationing would come back.

Some fear of a return to the coupon-buying of butter had been voiced in view of the worsening drought situation on the prairies, its effect on feed grain supplies, and hence the shortage of eastern cattle food.

However, officials here said that most milk-producing cattle feed on grass, which is plentiful in the butter-heavy east where rains have been higher than normal all spring. Feed grains are used in the winter months, but nearly three-quarters of all Canada's butter is produced in the summer months.

All Sooke Day Attracts Record Crowd Of 9,000

Adele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Foley of Glen Lake P.O., won the Victoria Daily Times cup and prize for the best baby in the show, is pictured with her mother.

Part of the crowd attending All Sooke Day is shown gathering by the river for the diving exhibition by Jack Collins, who is shown on the ladder of the tender ready to have his helmet adjusted before descending to walk on the river bottom.

Terry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Helgesen, winner of the Times prize for the best Sooke baby. He is with his mother.

Gloria Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Smith of Gordon Head, won the Times prize for the second best baby in the show. She is pictured with Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Betty Parker, blonde Victoria housewife, shows the way in the ladies' nail-driving contest.

J. G. Pappemberger, high-rigger from Beaver Point, Salt Spring Island, prepares for his breathtaking climb up an 80-foot spar tree. The crowd roared its approval as he made the ascent and descent in 48 seconds to win.

Sally Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Whitesel of Sooke, is shown with her mother after she won a special prize.

Tree Scaling, Log Rolling, Baby Show, Barbecue Draw Interest At Big Show

Bright sunshine, a warm breeze and 9,000 people in holiday mood, set the stage for the record-breaking 11th annual All Sooke Day, held Wednesday at Sooke River flats.

People came by train and boat and finally by bus and motor from California and Washington, Ontario and the prairies. Hundreds trekked down from Vancouver Island centres to see if the "Sooke Do" was anything like they held at Duncan July 1. As the car parade headed near the flats, autos were bumper to bumper, but Provincial Police kept traffic, incoming and outgoing, snarl-free.

It was the first postwar All Sooke Day and the community was all out for fun.

Aromas of 80 shining salmon, for which Sooke is famous, weighing one ton in all, cooking in racks over trench fires of alderwood, met visitors as they came near the serving ground. The 350 pounds of beef, barbecued Sooke style, put on at 2 Wednesday morning, to be ready for the first crowd at noon, met with approval very early in the day.

Some 350 gallons of steaming, flavorful Sooke clam chowder was also served. Andre Robillard was in charge of the cooking and serving of salmon, assisted by William Shields and Norman Baskerville, who turned the racks to make sure the fish was done "just right." James Forrest took charge of the beef barbecue.

'KLOOSH CONWAY CHACO'

Dr. George M. Weir, Minister of Education, representing Premier John Hart and the government, declared All Sooke Day officially open just after noon, and from then on it was "Kloosh Conway Chaco," which meant "Come All and Welcome" to Sooke's big day.

From the youngsters' foot races to the dance in the evening which culminated in the Sooke Community Hall, there were no dull moments.

The pie-eating contest, which was open to all, drew mostly the younger fry who knocked over more blueberry pie as they ran to the benches, than they consumed. However, there were a number of berry-stained faces around for the remainder of the afternoon.

BABY SHOW

A highlight to the women present was the Daily Times Baby Show conducted by Mrs. H. L. Robertson and judged by Dr. Russell Robertson. Fifty-seven babies were entered. On hand for the presentation of The Times Cup and three sets of baby silver, were Archie Wills, managing editor of The Times and Mrs. Wills.

Smiling Adele Foley, 14-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Foley of Glen Lake P.O., took the cup as the best baby from any rural district of Vancouver Island, entered in the show. Best Sooke baby prize of a silver set went to Terry Helgesen, 15-month-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Helgesen.

Gloria Joan Smith, 8-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Smith of Gordon Head won the prize for second best baby in the show, while a special prize went to wee Sally Jean, 3½-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Whitesel of Sooke.

TIMBER CONTEST

Drawing practically the entire crowd of Sooke Day visitors was the ever-popular logging sports when sun-bronzed men of the timbers bared their backs, took axes and saws in hands, and worked mightily hard to prove who was the strongest and the fastest. The crowd loved it.

Highlight of course was the high rigger's climbing contest with some of the crowd murmuring, excited "ohs and ahs" as contestants climbed to the top of an 80-foot fir log, specially erected and held in place by guy wires. Each contestant hit the bell as he reached the top.

J. G. Pappemberger, 34-year-old high rigger from Salt Spring Island whipped up the tree and down again in 48 seconds, to gain the plaudits of the on-lookers. Ted Shearing was second, doing the climb in 58 seconds. There were only three contestants.

MURRAY SHINES

Walking off, or rather axing and sawing off most of the honors in the chopping, bucking and tree-chopping contests was J. C. Murray, North Wellington, 36-year-old faller and buckler for the Northwest Bay Logging Company. He took the B.C. championship in log chopping at the Duncan Dominion Day Carnival contests and was not to be outdone at Sooke.

He chopped through a 12 by 12 piece of square fir timber in 2.16 minutes. Nestor Newman of Duncan was second in 2.45. Phil Whitaker of Duncan was third.

"This was a brute," commented Murray as he finished. "It was a lot harder here than at Duncan. We had round balsam timber to chop there; here it is a hard square of fir."

Murray also took honors in the log bucking as his long, sharp, shiny saw whirled through a piece of log with a volume of 85½ inches in 1 minute, 32 seconds. Phil Whitaker was second. Murray was first, and Rupert Soule second in the colorful tree-chopping contest.

With peavey in hand, Bill Auchinachie of Duncan rolled a 14-foot long log, with a 16-inch diameter, to take top honors in the men's log-rolling contest. Harry Helgesen, champ in this department at Sooke every other year, took second place. The crowd had a bad moment as one contestant rolled his log up to the finish point and momentarily forgot it. It started to roll down behind him and he stuck the peavey into it, just in time.

TROPHIES PRESENTED

Prizes and challenge cups were presented later in the day to winners in the events which were

Vancouver Island championships. Cups were presented by the Sooke Community Association, Sooke Liberal Association, Sooke Branch of the Canadian Legion and Sooke Local, U.F.A.W.U.

NAIL CONTEST

The ladies' nail-driving contest drew more than a dozen contestants and hundreds of kibitzers as the women, young and old, drove five four-inch nails into a five-inch plank.

They brought their own claw hammers and bing-banged away with vim and vigor. Strictly an amateur in this department was blonde and slim Mrs. Betty Parker, a Victoria housewife, who drove her five nails in 38 seconds to win first prize.

"I play around with nails," she said when asked about her previous experience. Mrs. O. W. Morris, also of Victoria, came second. It was her first nail-driving contest also. Max Elder, G. E. Bernard and A. Manzer were in charge of the logging sports.

Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., presented the Daily Colonist Challenge Cup for the tug-of-war contest to the undefeated team from the Elder Logging Company.

Included in the water sports was a "deep-sea" diving exhibition by Jack Collins, who walked under water for the width of the Sooke River. Later he went in "to rescue" a dummy. There were men's log-birthing contests and a canoe race.

Rube Acreman and Robert Fitton were in charge of the popular Sooke Gold Rush. Visitors were invited to the "goldfields" to stake a claim. Later on the stakes were to be dug, and if the claimholder found money beneath it, the money was his.

The tombola under Joe Collins took in more than $1,500, twice as much as ever before, and had to close up early when the prizes gave out.

With his sun-bronzed back bare, J. C. Murray of North Wellington, V.I., wins the tree-chopping contest.

Undefeated Elder Logging Company team again wins the Colonist Challenge Cup in the tug-of-war.

"The All Sooke Day this year has been an unusual success; it's like starting it out all over again," said A. F. Brownsey, president of the Sooke Community Association which sponsors the day. "The last big Sooke day we had was in 1941 and the biggest crowd we ever had was 7,000 in 1939. We estimate the crowd today to be around 9,000."

Governor To Take Salute In Parade Opening Navy Week

Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks will take the salute for the march past of the big naval parade to be held in conjunction with Navy Week next Tuesday, it was announced by Naval Headquarters here.

The ceremonial battalion will consist of the Royal Marine Band, Royal Marines and seamen from H.M.S. Kenya, Royal Canadian Naval Band and seamen from H.M.C.S. Naden, Ontario, Crescent and Rockcliffe.

The parade will start at 10.30 a.m. The route will be down Menzies to Belleville to Government, past the Empress Hotel to Yates Street, to Blanshard, to Fort; turn right to Douglas to Belleville, along Belleville past the saluting base in front of the Legislative Buildings, where the salute will be taken. The parade will return up Menzies to the starting-point, concluding about 11.30.

J. C. Murray and Phil Whittaker buck logs as the crowd looks on. Murray won the contest.

Varied Program Held At Playground

Marking the halfway mark in the six-week program, Esquimalt playgrounds held a panorama of activities at Bullen Park recently. Jimmy Nelson, Valerie Wood and Tommy Wyatt were winners in a decorated vehicle parade that took the form of a march past. Judges were Mrs. Warren Smith, Mrs. A. McDonald and Mrs. A. I. Thomas.

Dick Reeve, chairman of the playground council, acted as master of ceremonies and introduced Reeve A. I. Thomas, who officially opened the program.

Community singing led by the chief playground supervisor, Ari McCoy, and rhythm band selections by Mrs. T. Dixon's band were enjoyed.

Other events on the program included a flower display by Mrs. T. Floyd's class, a miniature amateur show and a demonstration of Indian club swinging by A. Smith.

Jackman, games; D. DeRoche, prizes, and R. G. Gibson, publicity. W. A. Conder, secretary of the Sooke Community Association, was on hand throughout the day.

In addition to the fish, beef and chowder consumed, the crowd dispensed with 2,100 ice cream dices, 2,400 poppies and 2,700 bottles of pop.

There were more cars than at any previous All Sooke Day and more food consumed, according to the caterers.

Inspector Robert Owens, head of A. Division of the B.C. Police, attended, and handling traffic under Sgt. Chris Jacklin were Constables Jack Lockie, Alan Quinn of the Sooke detachment; Bob Sinclair, Pete Campbell, E. Allan and R. Whitehead.

Mayor Percy George and Mrs. George and members of the City Council attended shortly after noon and were seated down to a luncheon of Sooke specialties.

Proceeds of All Sooke Day, which will be used to complete the Community Hall, will not be known for some days. But proof of the day's success could be seen as committee members discussed the bigger and better Sooke Days to come with a gala affair come 1949 and the 100th anniversary of the historic settlement.

Approximately 1,000 people attended the dance in the evening. The lights failed for about one hour but that did not mar the evening. The dance concluded and so did All Sooke Day at 3 this morning.

Loss Of Vessel In Hudson Bay Delays Supplies

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—Second northern supply ship to run aground in eight days, the 97-ton Hudson's Bay Company motor vessel Neophyte was a total loss today off Fort Severn, 250 miles south of this northern Manitoba port. Her crew of six escaped.

The one-time Dutch canal boat, commanded by Capt. Eric Carlson, veteran Hudson Bay seaman and tractor train operator, ran aground Tuesday, just eight days after the 2,500-ton Ss. Nascopie had piled up on a reef near Cape Dorset, 800 miles northeast of the Neophyte's last resting place and at the western end of Hudson Strait.

No lives were lost when the Nascopie, also an H.B.C. ship, struck and her complement now are on their way here aboard the government icebreaker N. B. McLean.

Loss of the two vessels, however, has imposed an urgent problem on the company. The Neophyte had been one of two small ships operating in Hudson Bay which had been considered as replacements for the Nascopie, which still had 10 or 14 outposts to provision. Now means must be found to supply the posts to have been visited by the Neophyte, most of which extend from York Factory, at the mouth of the Nelson River, to James Bay.

British Labor Party Readmits McGovern

LONDON (Reuter)—John McGovern, 59-year-old member of parliament for Shellston, Scotland, expelled from the parliamentary Labor Party in 1931 after being imprisoned in connection with unemployment riots and free speech campaigns in Glasgow, was readmitted to the party Wednesday night.

Last November McGovern, who led hunger marches from Glasgow to Edinburgh in the 30's and once slept on the main street of Edinburgh with 1,000 men and women, announced his intention to leave the Independent Labor Party because it was "too narrow" and "just beating the air." A highlight of his stormy political career occurred in July, 1931, when he made such a strong protest against imprisonment of tramp preachers for speaking without permits on Glasgow

Green that he was carried out of the House of Commons by attendants.

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (CP)—Lorne Maine, of Vancouver, Canadian junior champion, bowed out of the United States junior and boys' tennis championships today, losing a hard-fought fourth-round junior singles match to Jerry DeWitts of Vallejo, Calif., 7-5, 6-7, 6-1.

Ottawa To Appoint Whittaker Shortly To Supreme Court

OTTAWA (Special)—Appointment of Hon. Norman W. Whittaker, Speaker of the British Columbia Legislature for the past 10 years, to the British Columbia Supreme Court is expected to be announced here shortly.

It is understood the appointment has already been approved by the Dominion cabinet and that it now awaits only the approval of the Governor-General.

The appointment will follow representations of British Columbia to have the panel of Supreme Court justices increased to deal with an increasing number of cases. Enabling legislation has already been passed by the provincial and federal governments.

A native of Kamloops, born Nov. 18, 1893, Mr. Whittaker attended public school in Sannech and high school in Toronto. He returned to Victoria in 1911 and was articled to the firm of Tait, Brandon and Hall, barristers and solicitors.

Later he was articled to H. S. Pringle, formerly city solicitor of Victoria. After being called to the bar in 1917 he practiced law with Mr. Pringle for two years as a junior partner.

Opening his own law office in Victoria in 1919 he entered a partnership with J. R. McIlreath, in 1921. He is still associated with Mr. McIlreath in his legal practice there.

ENTERED POLITICS
Entering the provincial political arena in 1928 carrying the Liberal banner, Mr. Whittaker was defeated in the Saanich constituency by the provincial Conservative leader, Dr. S. F. Toimie, who was called on to form a government.

In the 1933 general election, however, Mr. Whittaker was elected in a Liberal landslide and he has been a member of the provincial legislature for Saanich ever since, having won the general elections in that riding in 1937, 1941 and 1945.

Following the 1937 general election Mr. Whittaker was chosen speaker of the legislature to succeed H. G. T. Perry of Prince George who became Minister of Education. Mr. Whittaker has occupied the speaker's chair in the House since that time.

Railwayman Retires After 48 Years
When the E. & N. passenger train from Courtenay chugs into the Victoria station tonight at 6.30, its engineer, Charles O. Richards, 541 Dalton Street, will swing down from his cab for the last time.

Tonight, Mr. Richards goes into retirement after 48 years' service on the island railway.

He began his railroad life in 1899 when he went to work as a wiper on the railway which was then owned by Hon. James Dunsinuir. In 1906 the C.P.R. took over from Mr. Dunsinuir and Mr. Richards was retained. Soon he was promoted to fireman and later to engineer. He worked at first on freight trains but 12 years ago was made engineer of a passenger train.

J. A. Kennedy, superintendent of the E. & N., said today: "Charlie is one of the best men we have."

400 Parking Meters Ready By Tomorrow

Installation of 400 of the 812 parking meters to be set up on Victoria's downtown streets will be completed Friday, C. N. Hamilton, consulting engineer in charge of the installation, said today.

The by-law authorizing the use of the meters and setting out the regulations will not receive final reading until Monday's City Council meeting, however. Following registration of the by-law later in the week, use of parking meters will be lawful.

Mr. Hamilton anticipated the remainder of the meters will not be received and installed for another two weeks.

First appearance of the parking meters on the streets of Victoria today attracted interest of both pedestrians and motorists alike.

Some motorists put coins in meters today but others ignored them, leaving the "violation" flag still up.

Open Special Clinic For Immunizations

Because of the number of parents wanting diphtheria immunization for their children special clinics will be open at the Health Centre on Pandora Avenue Friday afternoon from 1.30 to 3.30, and Monday afternoon at the same time, Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical health officer, said today.

There were 56 children started the course of inoculations Wednesday afternoon, Dr. Anderson said, setting a near record. The full immunization requires three injections, given three weeks apart.

No trace has been found of the carrier yet, Dr. Anderson said, commenting that actually there may be more than one. He said in some instances the condition of a carrier rights itself spontaneously, although it may take from a few weeks up to six months to do so. He recalled one instance of a child in Esquimalt who had positive throat swabs for more than six months before medical authorities were able to clear up the condition which made her a diphtheria carrier.

The five-year-old girl who is in Jubilee Hospital with diphtheria at the present time is progressing satisfactorily he said.

Mayor Percy George has been invited to attend the Seattle Scottish Highland Games Aug. 9.

The treasure prize hunt will be held at 4. Clues will be put in bottles and thrown into the bay. Only two of the bottles will contain the clue to the prize.

Want Footpaths Along Highways

The provision of footpaths or sidewalks along arterial highways for the use of school children and pedestrians is asked of the provincial government by the South Vancouver Island School Trustees' Association in a resolution it will submit to the B.C. School Trustees' Association convention when it meets in Harrison Hot Springs this September. The resolution stressed that the arterial highways are not safe for school children who, in many instances, must use them to get to school.

Another resolution, C. M. Parrott, secretary, stated, asks that the school fiscal year be changed to correspond with the school year, and the required data for filling estimates for the ensuing year be not earlier than Sept. 30. At present the financial year is the calendar year, and the school year is July 1 to June 30, meaning a double audit each year.

Cincinnati's Conundrum

Ewell Blackwell looks like any other six-foot six-inch pitcher at the start of his wind-up, but when the Reds' young luminary unwinds for his sidearm cross-fire the batter suspects the ball is coming from somewhere in the vicinity of third base. For fast ball or curve, the ex-GI grips the ball by the seams. He came within two outs of pitching consecutive no-hit no-run games while chalking up 16 straight victories.

Send Strong Teams To Kelowna Regatta

Victoria will be well represented at the annual Kelowna regatta slated for Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at the interior city, according to announcements by coaches Archie McKinnon of the Y.M.C.A., and Bill Robertson of the V.A.S.C., who last night released their respective teams for the interim event.

The Flying "Y" club, who walked off with the major share of honors at last year's event, will send one of the strongest units ever to represent the association to this year's meet, McKinnon said.

Captain Ron Neilson of the men's team, Ina Salmon, skipper of the women's team; Peter Salmon, Eric Jubb, Ray Jubb, Joan Morgan, Dick Bowden, Jack Morgan, Aileen Smyth, Les Rimmer and others will make the trip.

Jack Wellburn, Wrigley mile champion; Bill Doddridge, distance star; Marion Austin, Bill Langford, Miles Dighton, Doug Stewart and Walter Balobaba, will represent the V.A.S.C.

With the Dominion swimming and diving championships set for the Crystal Garden the following week, performances at Kelowna will be watched with special interest.

Visiting Stars Shine In Tennis Tournament

Quarter finalists have been named in all events of the British Columbia lawn tennis championships. The round of eight was being run off today at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club. Men's singles were front and centre yesterday afternoon as the competition narrowed down. Favored Arnold Beisser of California produced the necessary shots at will in downing H. T. Matson of Victoria 6-2, 6-1, while second seeded Mervyn Miller downed another local, Harold Sinclair of the C.P.R. club, 6-2, 6-1.

Jim Livingstone of San Francisco looked consistently good in winning from Seattle's Mel Dranga with the loss of only two games. Joining Livingstone in the quarters were the Lewis brothers of Salt Lake City, and George Kraft of San Francisco, all of whom won straight set victories.

Henry Bennett, Victoria city champion, found the going too tough against Paul Haupt of Santa Ana and went down 6-0, 6-3. Haupt displayed a strong service which Bennett did not have the ground strokes to break down. It was obvious that the local player had to rely on his service and volley to match Haupt. Holding game points in every game he served, Bennett was unable to put a game in the won column until his fifth service game. Thereafter he held service but was unable to break through the Californian to tie up the second. Only other singles match played saw Jim McArthur take a three setter from George Lamport of Vancouver, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3.

DOUBLES PLAY
Fresh from his singles defeat, Bennett returned to the playing surface to indulge in his fort, men's doubles. Playing with Jim Livingstone—the international team wasted no time in polishing off Dave Williams and Bill Dunbar, 6-0, 6-1. Undaunted, Williams immediately took to the court teamed with Vancouver's Mary Green and made things tough for Californians, Norma Luhn and George Kraft. Williams played an excellent game and he and his partner gave the gallery a most interesting match before going down on one service break in the third set. Scores were 6-2, 9-11, 6-4.

Visiting players and local contestants were guests of the club, at a buffet supper at the conclusion of the matches for that day. Late draw for today follows:
9:00—Miss McGuire and Miss Loe vs. Miss McLean and Miss Taylor; Miss Wilkinson and Miss Gore-Lancaster vs. Miss Green and Miss Cowan; Miss Lowe and Miss Acton; 8:00—Miss Greente and Miss Crowe vs. Miss Lowe and Miss Unsworth; McPherson and Millidge vs. Fries and Pherson.

Tom Blower Rejects Canadian Swim Offer

BELFAST (CP)—A spokesman for swimmer Tom Blower said today the 238-pound Englishman would not be able to accept an invitation to compete in a Canadian National Exhibition swim in Toronto next month as "he is going to take a long rest." Blower, who earlier this week swam the North Channel between Ireland and Scotland for the first time in history, was unavailable for comment. However, friends of his from Nottingham, Eng., visiting him near here said "it would be unfair to ask him" at the present time.

Blackwell's Streak Ends; Dodgers Win Mirror

Lanky Ewell Blackwell's sensational 16-game winning streak is at an end today, but another string—the 12 straight successes of Brooklyn Dodgers—has the baseball world buzzing.

The National League-leading Brooks won their 12th straight in St. Louis early this morning and few of the 31,709 fans who saw the nerve-tingling 11 to 10 Dodger victory over the Cardinals will forget it.

The game, which lasted through 10 inning and 3 1/2 hours, had all the thrills and pathos of a world series encounter. The defeat, coming the way it did, was a crusher for the Cards.

The Dodgers appeared on their way to one of their easiest triumphs of the season as they opened up a 10 to 0 lead against Harry Brecheen and Red Munger in the first four innings. It was merely a question whether Ralph Branca would be able to register the third successive Dodger shut-out as the two teams entered the sixth.

The Cards, aided by Whitey Kurowski's three-run homer, caused a mild stir by scoring four times in the sixth to knock Branca from the hill. The Brooks still enjoyed a six-run lead until the last of the ninth and it surely appeared all over as relief pitcher Hank Behrman quickly retired two of the first three men to face him.

Then Chuck Diering, Stan Musial Enos Slaughter and Ron Northey slammed successive singles to bring in three tallies and knock out Behrman in favor of Hugh Casey. The veteran fireman fared no better than Behrman. Kurowski walked, Marty Marion singled and pinch hitter Del Wilber also singled to drive in three more runs and deadlock the game at 10 to 10.

WINNING RUN
Far from losing heart, however, the Dodgers roared back in the top of the 10th to score the decisive marker. With one out Gene Hermanski doubled and after Bruce Edwards had made the second out Pee Wee Reese came through with a ground ball single between third and short to send Hermanski home with the payoff run. Clyde King stopped

Norm Martin Hurls Vets To Easy Win Over Esquimalt

Hottest team in town! That is what other senior A softball clubs are saying about Lloyd Jones' Army, Navy and Air Force Vets nine. Last night the Vets turned back the league-leading Esquimalt Meat Market squad, 6 to 2, to move into second place in the standings, one game ahead of Brentwood Aces.

With the top three teams playing off in the post-season play-downs, it appears now as if Brentwood Aces and Vets will meet in the semis. Douglas Tire, in fourth place, must win both their remaining games and Brentwood lose their lone tussle with Blue Birds to tie Aces for third place.

Norm Martin, who has spearheaded the Vets drive to playoff contention during the past three weeks, again was the winning pitcher. He handcuffed the Esquimalt team for six innings, losing a shutout in the seventh when Leon Hall doubled and scored on an infield miscue. A triple by Vic Dale and a single by Ray Byers with two out in the ninth gave Esquimalt their only earned run.

Vets tallied once in the first inning with Grunder, ceding the bases. They added four runs in the fourth inning on singles by Hudlin, Martin and Grunder, a fielder's choice and a

Stymie Earns $719,660

BOSTON (AP)—Stymie, Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' one-time $1,500 plater, Wednesday became the first race horse in history to earn $700,000 as he won the annual running of the $50,000 Massachusetts Handicap at Suffolk Downs.

The fabulous rags-to-riches six-year-old chestnut stretch runner out ran six rivals while earning first money of $41,150 to boost his lifetime earnings to $719,660.

William Heils' Elpis finished second 1 1/2 lengths behind, and Blue Yonder was third. Stymie covered the 1 1/2-mile route in 1:50. He paid $2,600, $2.20 and $2.20.

Top-weighted at 128 pounds, Stymie, who regained the all-time top earning record from Assault in the $100,000 Gold Cup at Belmont two weeks ago, gave away 17 pounds each to Elpis and Blue Yonder.

A's Make Or Break On Long Road Trip

Victoria's faltering Athletics departed today on a road trip that will enhance or kill their chances to lift the pennant in this year's W.I.L. baseball campaign. After being knocked off for the second straight time last night by Yakima, 7 to 3, the A's hold a slim three and a half game margin over fifth-place Tacoma. Five errors responsible for four unearned runs ruined all chances for the Victoria club in the clincher game with the seventh-place Stars.

Tonight the A's open a five-game series with the league-leading Spokane Indians, following which they move over to Salem for three and close out the road trip with four engagements at Yakima. They come back Aug. 11 for a long home stand, starting with three games against last-place Wenatchee.

Len Kasparovitch, after his 12th victory of the season, saw his teammates come up with some bad physical and mental errors last night. After a pair of boots by Cavalli and Hooper had given Yakima a lone run in the first inning, Kasparovitch closed the door until the sixth when singles by Ward, Lilly and Phillips combined with a walk earned the visitors a pair of runs.

COSTLY BOBBLES
Three unearned runs in the eighth robbed the A's of any chance to pull it out of the fire. After third sacker Jensen had allowed the first batter to reach first catcher Mastro came up with a pair of boots. Singles by Goldsberry and Barnes completed the damage. Harris' double and Beringhele's single gave Yakima its seventh run in the ninth.

A's got two runs in the first on three hits by Hooper, White and Cavalli along with a pair of walks but the rally was cut short when White overran third and was tagged out. Pair of errors and Cavalli's single gave Victoria its final run in the sixth.

Two double plays on line smashes cut short Victoria rallies in the fifth and eighth frames while another twin killing by way of second base ended the game in the ninth.

Hooper grabbed off the hitting honors for the night with four for four, including a double.

Youthful Larry Ward hurled the Yakima win as he gave up nine hits, struck out five and walked six. Kasparovitch allowed a like number of hits, fanned seven and issued four passes.

Fielding gems were provided by outfielders Bill White of the A's and Spencer Harris of Yakima as they made one-handed stabs of line smashes.

SPOKANE SPLITS
Spokane's Indians, shut out 3 to 0 on Hub Kittle's two-hit pitching in the opening game of a double bill, found their eye for 15 bingles to crack out a 9 to 7 second-game triumph over Bremerton and split their four-game series.

The division left the Indians still a game and a half in front of the runner-up Bremerton nine.

25th Seniors' Golf Tourney At Colwood; Entries Close Soon

Entries for the 25th annual tournament of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association close Aug. 6, A. V. Macan, secretary-treasurer, announced today.

To be held at the Colwood Club Aug. 11 to 15, this year's tourney is expected to draw one of the largest entry lists of recent years.

Winner of the association championship will receive the Barnard Cup while flight winners and victors in special events such as par competitions, putting competitions will also receive prizes.

Qualifying round will take place Monday with association and flight finals carded Friday. All matches in the tourney will be 18 holes. There will be a 36-hole medal competition with nine holes slated for each of the first four days.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Abe Greene, president of the National Boxing Association, said Wednesday his organization had followed the action of the British Board of Control in depriving Jackie Paterson of Scotland of his world flyweight title.

Greene said the N.B.A. had declared the 112-pound champion vacant and would recognize the winner of a bout between Dado Marino of Honolulu and Rinty Monaghan of Belfast, Ireland, as the title holder. Marino likewise was recognized as the logical contender.

Called the "pony meter" and said to have been invented by a Canadian professor of economics, identity unknown, the panel-like device was reported by police to have been sold to unsuspecting clients by William F. Wrieden. Price $10, plus 20 cents tax.

Wrieden, arrested yesterday on grand larceny charges, also was charged with selling stock in a company which he said manufactured the pony meter.

but combined with Salem's 9 to 1 loss at Tacoma, added a half game to the leaders' margin over the challenging Oregonians. Vancouver completed its sweep over Wenatchee with a 15 to 9 decision.

Bremerton pushed over a decisive two runs in the first game's initial inning on a pair of singles, errors and wild pitch—and then relied on Kittle's pitching to carry them through. The second tilt was a decided contrast with the two clubs banging out a total of 25 blows and Spokane taking victory in the eighth on George Schmees' homer.

Tacoma bunched all its scoring in one big inning, the fifth, when every player crossed the plate with a counter.

Legion Nine In Close Baseball Win Over Gasmen

Faced with the prospect of playing three games in the next four days, Manager Rosy McLellan elected to do the hurling chores for his third-place Pitzer and Nex squad last night and save young Al Turcotte, his ace hurler, for one of the week-end tilts. One bad inning, the opening stanza, spoiled all his labors as the youthful crew went down to a 5 to 3 defeat at the hands of Bobby Weigan's Canadian Legion nine.

With two away in the first, successive singles by Harry Downs and Jack Walker and Bill Prior's hard line smash which was good for a home run, provided Legion with a 3 to 0 lead. It was Prior again in the third, as he led off with a base hit and went to third on Wally Thomson's safety, scoring when shortstop Robinson failed to block the throw from the outfield.

Losers counted a singleton in the fourth, putting together two errors, a walk, and Dal Bertrand's fly to centre, and notched another in the fifth to make it 4 to 2. Rookie Wright's error, plus a pair of infield outs and Glen Charlton's bingle brought home Jim Wright.

HITS TRIPLE

Legionnaires added their final tally in the top of the sixth, Castner drawing a life when left-fielder Charlton dropped his fly, and Roger Ross clouting a long triple to left centre. Final run of the fixture came in the last of the ninth, Anderson going all the way to third on a pair of fielder's choices, and counting on Robinson's base knock.

Bill Prior with three for four and Rosy McLellan with two for three paced the batters.

Teams move to Athletic Park for Friday's game, which will start at 6:30, and will bring together Navy and Pitzer and Nex.

NEW YORK (AP)—Five members of the British Wightman Cup team arrived on the liner Queen Elizabeth Wednesday and reported that a sixth member of their group, Mrs. Jean Bostock, missed the ship but would join them next week in international tennis matches. Those arriving were Mrs. Kay Stammers-Menzies, Mrs. Molly Blair, Mrs. Betty Hilton, Joy Gannon and Jean Quartier.

Former Ghost Town Scene For Movie

Today there is a new bonanza in Kernville, Calif. The once-famous gold mining centre, which dwindled to a ghost town, was re-discovered by Hollywood location scouts who saw in its nearby rivers, mountains, meadows, rocks and tall timber, the backgrounds which would enhance their outdoor films.

Now, the cinecolor camera has come to Kernville to mark another milestone in the town's boom history. Universal photographed many of its sweeping, fast action scenes for Rex Beach's "Michigan Kid," showing at the Plaza Theatre, on the site of the spectacular gold strike. John Hall, Victor McLaglen, Rita Johnson and Andy Devine are co-starred in the romantic story which takes George Seaton wanted to be an actor and decided that the best way to achieve his aim was to write a play in which there was a sizable role for him. After that, no one would regard him as anything but a writer and the next thing he knew he was in Hollywood doing a screen play.

Like most writers, he enjoyed his work but when he saw his brainchildren on the screen, he wasn't always satisfied. This led him to make a suggestion to his producer, William Perlberg, that he be permitted to direct his own scripts.

Perlberg thought this was a reasonable enough request with the result that "Miracle on 34th Street," the comedy-drama starring John Payne and Maureen O'Hara, which is currently at the Royal Theatre, is his fourth writing-directing assignment for Twentieth Century-Fox.

LIKE OLD TIMES—Not since the palmy days of prewar travel have Canadian customs inspectors handled such a rush of business in Montreal as last week, when the baggage of the 700 passengers from Ss. Empress of Canada was cleared.

'Sinbad The Sailor' Shown At Atlas

Thrilling adventure and stormy romance are the twin themes of RKO Radio's spectacular new technicolor offering, "Sinbad the Sailor," now at the Atlas Theatre with Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Maureen O'Hara and Walter Slezak in the starring roles.

The story concerns the search for the fabulous treasure of Alexander, supposedly hidden on the Island of Deryabar. Sinbad, a penniless adventurer, gets a ship with which to seek the treasure. Also on the search for the treasure is the powerful Emir of Daibul and his beautiful emissary, Shireen, with whom Sinbad falls in love. She believes him to be Prince Ahmed, son of the Aga Ahmed of Deryabar, and will be able to lead the way to the island for her and the Emir. On the other hand, Sinbad believes that Shireen and the Emir know the course.

There are stirring adventures when Sinbad abducts Shireen from the Emir's palace and sails with her, only to be overtaken by the Emir, who sinks his ship and takes everybody prisoner. The spectacular climax at Deryabar brings about the destruction of the Emir and his men, with Sinbad performing prodigious deeds of valor, after which he sails with Shireen in his arms.

British Soldiers Attacked In Germany

HERFORD, Germany (Reuter) Squads of British troops and armed German police have been posted on night patrol around Hannover following attacks by masked Germans on British soldiers walking with German girls, it was learned.

Hannover has been placed out of bounds to all British troops not stationed there.

Informants said the attacks, which doubled in intensity during the last two weeks, were carried out with such violence that several British soldiers were beaten unconscious.

The attacks followed recent widespread reports in the British zone of a growing wave of sabotage, and gave strength to the feeling that former Nazis who remained silent throughout the winter famine conditions were launching a wide offensive against occupying forces.

RIO THEATRE

Preparations for the production of "The Turning Point," now showing at the Rio Theatre, were so thorough that a period of several months elapsed between the time the film was planned and the day the first scene was shot. So painstaking and careful was the research conducted that by the time they were ready to start shooting, Stallingrad had fallen far behind the front lines, and battle sequences had to be photographed at a completely different sector of the front.

DOMINION THEATRE

To most ordinary men, laws are rules set up by society to keep men living together in harmony in their daily pursuits. To some, who live by their own rules, refusing to abide by the ones laid down by society, laws are restrictions—obstacles which must be circumvented. And to some men the restrictions which law puts on the conforming citizen is used to their own advantage. The story of a man who was wrongly accused of breaking one of society's most serious laws, and who then took the law into his own hands for his own brand of justice, is excitingly told in "Murder in Reverse," the new thrill drama currently at the Dominion Theatre.

Phyllis Thaxter's dog, Cass, has the most glamorous bark in Hollywood—it made him an actor! The dog, a Boxer pup weighing 75 pounds, accompanied Miss Thaxter to the studio projection room where she was seeing "Living in a Big Way," in which she appears with Gene Kelly, at the Crystal Theatre.

When Cass saw his mistress on the screen, he barked applause. This attracted the attention of Director Gregory LaCava. He

Too Much Make-up Used In Hollywood Says Esther Williams

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hollywood, said Esther Williams as a fake eyelash was being applied to her left lid, uses too much make-up.

The glib-tongued swimming queen was expounding on the set of "On an Island With You." A natural beauty, she doesn't need greasepaint to make her delectable for the camera. But what about her colleagues?

"There must be lots of them," she declared. She was able to name three—Ingrid Bergman, Lana Turner and Ava Gardner. "There are more, but I haven't seen many of them without their make-up."

BING HAS RHYTHM

For some time I've been trying to dope out why Bing Crosby still remains head and shoulders above his younger singing competitors. Now I think I've got it. The groaner's got rhythm.

Schooled in the jazz days with Paul Whiteman's rhythm boys, Bing learned to sing with a beat. He can squeeze life into a tootling tune as well as a ballad.

Many of the newer, mike-hanging crop have better voices. But all, and that includes Sinatra, Como, Haymes and Russel, hold their notes as though they lied to let them go.

New Battle Dress
For All Services

OTTAWA (CP)—The battle dress, war-tested everyday uniform of the Canadian soldier, is being modified in style and may become the basis for standard dress for all three services, it was learned Wednesday.

Army experts on dress have approved a slightly altered version that will include a convertible collar which can either be worn open with a necktie or closed for formal occasions. It also will have a fuller back and front to permit greater freedom of movement.

The pants will not be changed. The wartime ankle was done away with some time ago, with the puttee taking its place.

A joint committee of all three services has been considering a common uniform for months and still is at work. It is expected the design they choose will be based on the battle dress style, with each maintaining its own color.

India Celebrates
Transfer Of Power

NEW DELHI (AP)—The constitution-drafting Constituent Assembly today called a session for midnight, Aug. 14, to launch India's celebration of the transfer of power from the Crown to the people.

This surprise announcement came as the assembly wound up 18 days of rapid progress and quit work until after the Indian union comes into being. India on Freedom Day, Aug. 15, will become two big dominions—the Indian Union, predominantly Hindu, and Pakistan, predominantly Moslem.

Dr. Rajendra Prasad, president of the assembly, said the program of the midnight session would include a formal invitation to Viceroy Viscount Mountbatten to take office at 10 a.m. Aug. 15 as Governor-General of the Indian Union during the ceremony at which he officially will hand over authority to the people.

Britain Refuses To Ban
Novel 'Forever Amber'

LONDON (Reuter)—Home Secretary Cuthbert Ede today refused to give way to a demand from Communist William Gallacher in the House of Commons that he prohibit the publication in British newspapers of "filthy publications" such as Kathleen Winsor's "Forever Amber," which recently appeared in serial form.

Ede said he understood the director of public prosecutions had decided that "Forever Amber" was not of such a character as to warrant proceedings under the criminal law relating to indecent and obscene publications. The book was described by Sir Thomas Moore, Conservative, as "rather dull and repetitive."

Immigrants To Be Flown To Toronto

LONDON (CP)—J. P. S. Armstrong, Ontario Agent-General in the United Kingdom, announced today that Trans-Canada Air Lines will take over the air movement of British emigrants from Trans-Ocean airline at the end of September.

Trans-Ocean flights will be made during August and September direct to Toronto. The Ontario government, which plans to move 7,000 Britons to the Canadian province during the next several months, originally contracted with the Trans-Ocean, a United States charter company, to fly the emigrants from London to Buffalo, N.Y. This plan was changed when it was found not to conform with a United Kingdom-United States air agreement.

The T.C.A. later offered to take over the job, sub-contracting the flights to Trans-Ocean.

Paris Bus Crashes
Bridge; 3 Killed

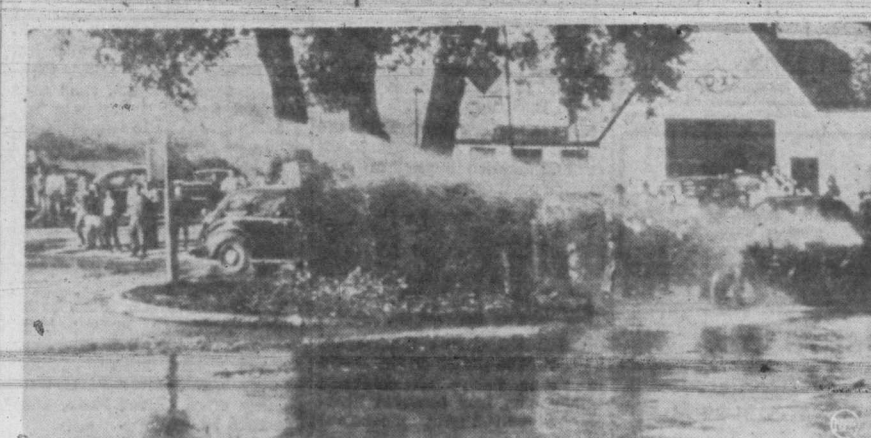

PARIS (Reuter)—Three persons were killed and 23 injured Wednesday when a Paris bus crashed through the parapet of Neuilly Bridge in the western suburbs and fell 30 feet to the bank of the River Seine.

Four of the injured were in a serious condition today. Firemen, police and volunteer rescuers worked under arc lamps for more than an hour to extricate them from the wreckage.

Italy Ratifies Pact

ROME (AP)—The constituent Assembly voted 262 to 68 tonight to authorize the government to ratify the Italian peace treaty.

Fire Hose Used To Disperse Pickets

Police had to use fire hose to clear the street of 300 pickets who were attempting to prevent workers from returning to their jobs at the Remington-Rand plant at Benton Harbor, Mich. Here is hose in action as pickets take refuge in a filling station.

Seiner Refloated

SEATTLE (AP)—The 50-foot purse seiner Inga O, which ran aground on Dungeness Spit west of Port Townsend Wednesday night, was refloated shortly after midnight, the U.S. Coast Guard said today.

Fireman Loses Life

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (CP)—A false alarm turned into tragedy today when war veteran George Mann, 33-year-old Port Stanley fireman, died in a hospital here after being thrown off a fire truck as it sped to the scene of what proved a false call. Mann's skull was fractured when he was tossed against a tree last Sunday. He leaves a widow.

Start $100,000 Fire

DETROIT (CP)—Damage is estimated at $100,000 in a fire which Wednesday night destroyed the Grace Harbor Company's two-story mill on the Detroit riverfront near the Ambassador Bridge. The fires of hobo cooking their evening meal nearby were blamed for starting the four-alarm blaze.

BERLIN (AP)—Russian authorities announced today that 256,983 German war prisoners and civilian internees had been repatriated from the Soviet Union in the past 12 months. Foreign Minister Molotov told the foreign ministers' council at Moscow last spring that the Russians still held approximately 900,000 German war prisoners.

New Trustee Named

TORONTO (CP)—Charles P. McTague, K.C., chairman of the Ontario Securities Commission, has been appointed to succeed the late Mrs. I. Cameron of Toronto as a trustee of the John Ross Robertson estate, proprietors and publishers of the Toronto Evening Telegram, it was announced today.

LONDON (CP)—Alfred Crips, Toronto steeplejack who left London by air Wednesday for home, said what he had planned for a holiday here turned into "three months of hard work." He said a repair firm had learned of his presence and employed him to work on the Nelson Column in Trafalgar Square.

Warm Current Shifts
While Tuna Fished

ASTORIA, Ore. (AP)—Reports by tuna fishermen that temperature of Pacific waters 100 miles off shore here is 70 degrees brought the explanation from meteorologists today that a tropical current had shifted inshore.

Unon Makey, captain of the trawler Starlite, said a reading showed 70 degrees—eight degrees higher than any previous report in that area.

Fishermen said the warm current also explained the large number of tropical species of tuna taken during the past week, particularly bluefin tuna, which are found off the Central American coast.

E. S. Ellison, meteorologist in charge of the Portland weather bureau, said "there is a warm south-to-north current which now and then moves a little closer inshore. That is evidently what is happening now."

Some fishermen said the warm temperatures might also explain why the albacore, running off shore in large schools, are not biting well.

Montgomery At Sydney, Homebound

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, Chief of the Imperial General Staff, arrived here from New Zealand today and planned to depart for England tomorrow for important conferences on Britain's manpower program caused by the economic crisis.

Montgomery cut short his New Zealand visit and canceled a trip to Japan because of the urgency of the impending talks.

Here Is Life
As It's Lived In Victoria

The true story of Life as it is lived in Victoria—its vivid, colorful patchwork of human experience—filled with drama, pathos, comedy and romance, is unfolded for your profit and entertainment day after day in the Times Classified Ads.

It is written, not by a single person, but by thousands of people who are themselves characters in the story; and whose lack of writing skill is more than offset by the richness and sincerity of the tale itself.

In reality, these people are the City. Their lives are its life; their problems its problems; their needs and aims, its needs and aims. What they buy and sell; what they rent and trade; what jobs they offer and take; what services they render, form the basis of Victoria's revenues.

The forces that drive them; the varied needs and problems underlying their Ad-appeals, are the glistening threads of human interest that highlight the pattern of Victoria's design for living.

If you know Victoria really well and benefit fully from its dazzling opportunities, don't overlook reading its Personal and Business Diary in the Times Want Ads today and every day.
